Pope Is Better; Has No Cancer

78-Year-Old Pontiff Is Reported Resting Easily; Has Conferences With Some of Leading Prelates

Vatican City, Dec. 4 (AP)—Pope Pius XII got a little better again today and specialists dispelled fears that the seriously ailing pontiff has cancer.

Two clinical experts who took part in a bedside conference last midnight said the Pope was not suffering from a tumoral sac of the digestive tubes.

The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church suffered a collapse Thursday that brought him close to death. But his sturdy heart pulled him through that crisis and through the hours that allowed him to strengthen.

"Everything looks better," Dr. Luciano Casimiri, a Vatican spokesman, said as he returned to the papal apartment earlier today to issue the morning communique.

The statement containing the report said:

"TWO CLINICAL DOCTORS consulted yesterday, Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini and the surgeon Prof. Raffaele Paolucci Di Valmaggiore issued the following report.

"The clinical facts resulting from the history, notwithstanding the fact we could not make a complete radiological examination, exclude there being any tumoral sac of the digestive tubes.

"THE HICCUPS from which the Holy Father has suffered at various times can be attributed to a gastritical or ulcerative fact.

"Because, also, of the high gastric acidity controlled, it is to be excluded that a toxic condition could have contributed to the beginning of the syndrome (a group of symptoms).

"From an objective point of view the condition of the cardiocirculatory apparatus are in optimum condition, the lungs are untouched. In the abdomen there does not exist free liquid: It is tractable in all its quandrants, painful only slightly in the superior right one (quadrant) where on the other side the Holy Father for years has complained of such pain.

"AT THE PRESENT state of things it is believed indispensable to succeed in feeding His Holiness. This may be accomplished either by parenteral (i.e., non-intestinal) way or through a tube, after having emptied the stomach of acid excretions and eventual stagnations and having proceeded also to a slight akaline washing.

"The good condition of the hematosis (arterialization of blood in the lungs) does not render necessary blood transfusions, but it will be opportune to make some infusions of plasma and to continue with the amino acids (acids derived from protein) of which we have already started the treatment. Any other therapy in the present condition is to be suspended. It is imperative to reestablish the strength of His Holiness. His strength, without any doubt, will recover rapidly if a gradual feeding is carried out and the therapy of vitamins and liver extract, already started, is continued."

THE POPE was resting fairly easily in his white-walled bed chamber in the Vatican Palace. Despite grave weakness, his morning included conferences with leading prelates interpreted here as probably designed to two ends:

1. Delegation of some of his duties during his severe illness.
2. Preparation for a possible bedside consistory at which the six vacancies in the College of Cardinals would be filled.

The announcement was foreshadowed earlier when two cardinals emerged from a bedside audience with the Pope and reported finding him "much better and more cheerful."

THE TWO PRELATES, Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the College of Cardinals, and Nicola Cardinal Canali, said the Pope spent a comparatively restful night.

M. W. Bence GE Manager In Monterrey

Matthew W. Bence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew F. Bence of 259 Lucas avenue, has assumed duties as manager of the General Electric Company in Monterrey, Mexico, The Freeman has learned.

Bence, who is 35, an electrical engineer, was with the International General Electric Company in Saudi, Arabia, before his assignment to Monterrey. His wife and two children are with him.

ACCORDING to an article in one of the Monterrey newspapers, Bence replaces F. M. Corliss who has been assigned to the Far East. He was quoted as saying he was very happy to return to this hospitable and industrial town, particularly because on this trip I do not come as a visitor but to live here." The article continues:

"Mr. Bence, who is accompanied by his wife and two children, were received at the airport by Mr. M. R. LaMontagne, technician, and Roberto J. Lira, commercial representative of domestic appliances of the GE Company in Monterrey.

"TO OUR INQUIRY regarding the factory that General Electric is constructing on Cuauhtemoc street close to Lamparas Electricas Mexicanas, S. A., he indicated that he had no connection with the new factory that will give work to 600 local laborers."

The article quoted Bence as saying that he was not acquainted with the new factory. "The only thing I know is that our company is trying to expand its operations in Monterrey."

HE SAID HIS MISSION was to promote the sale of electrical equipment. "Naturally, I have the firm intention of promoting to a maximum the sale of the products manufactured by General Electric." He considers Monterrey one of the most important markets in the Republic for GE products.

Bence graduated from Kingston High School in 1937 and from Pratt Institute, School of Science and Technology, in 1941.

DURING WORLD WAR 2 he served in Germany and France as battalion engineer with the 765th Railway Shop Battalion. He was in charge of all engineering and construction work of the battalion.

He has since traveled extensively throughout the United States, Europe, Asia and South America as a representative of the International General Electric Company.

Liberty Man Is Held for Murder

Among those assisting in the investigation and arrest of a suspect in the slaying Thursday of Mrs. Flora Banks Jersey near Liberty was Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, Kingston Station, state police, and BCI men from the Ellenville station.

According to The Associated Press, a 22-year-old married man has been held on a first degree murder charge in the slaying of Mrs. Jersey whose body was found in a ditch near Loch Sheldrake about seven miles from Liberty.

The attractive 25-year-old woman, estranged from her husband and living wtih her mother at Ellenville, had been brutally beaten and her body bore the imprint of heel marks.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY yesterday was Thomas S. Terry. Police quoted Terry as saying he beat the woman in an early

Three Women Charged With Plotting Murder

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Three Bronx women were charged today with plotting to murder the husband of one, allegedly for his $3,000 insurance and the hope of $100,000 in a trumped-up negligence suit.

The victim, James Ricco, 40, was to be crushed to death against an elevated train pillar in a faked taxi accident, Bronx Asst. Dist. Atty. Louis Silver said. The scheme came to light about a week ago, Silver said, when taxidriver Fred Bezer, 34, became increasingly alarmed about his role in the plot.

Bezer was described as the boy friend of one of the three women, all of whom were arrested last night shortly before Ricco was to have been killed.

THE THREE WOMEN arrested were Ricco's wife, Patricia, 30, Mrs. Ann Sabella, 27, (of 347 East 135th street), and Mrs. Sabella's sister, Edia Rainey, 25, (of 371 East 135th street).

Ricco and his blonde wife are the parents of three daughters, aged nine, seven and five.

Silver said money collected from the murder was to be divided between Bezer, Mrs. Ricco and Miss Rainey. He said Mrs. Sabella was implicated in the conspiracy as a result of "police information" and that she "knew all about it."

THE SCHEME, described by Silver, was as follows:

Ricco was to leave his apartment at 383 East 135th St. to walk the dog last night, as was his custom.

When the dog and master reached a certain elevated train pillar, Bezer was to ram into him with his taxi, crushing him against the pillar. Bezer had been told just where to wait and also that it would be arranged for Ricco to be wearing a red jacket that night.

The brakes of Bezer's cab were to be disabled deliberately in order to help win a sizable award in a negligence suit that the widow would bring against his company.

ALTHOUGH THE ALLEGED schemers had trailed Ricco on his nightly walks and knew that the dog normally stopped at a certain pillar, they planned to hold him there a little longer on his particular night by scattering meat in the area.

Silver said Bezer learned about the plot and his role in it from Miss Rainey, who gave him instructions bit by bit. Bezer, whose address and taxi company name were temporarily withheld, was described as a student of criminology.

Both Bezer and Mrs. Sabella gave statements to police, Silver said, but the other two women refused to talk during several hours of questioning after their arrests.

SILVER SAID as a result of this plot, he plans to reopen an investigation into the near fatal shooting of Ricco on May 27, 1953.

On that night, Silver said, Mrs. Ricco was out, supposedly

Sheppard Story Is Fined Combed By Prosecution

Cleveland, Dec. 4 (AP)—Prosecution lawyers were poring over testimony in the murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard today, searching for new points to attack the story his witnesses are unfolding.

They already have struck at the defense in several vital areas.

Cross-examination forced Sheppard's older brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard, to admit he gave different versions of the same episode, and that one of these versions was untrue.

STATE'S ATTORNEYS also hammered hard at his report that he found his brother seriously injured the morning of the murder of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard.

The trial goes into its eighth week Monday.

The state charges that "Dr. Sam" Sheppard, natty Cleveland osteopath, killed his pregnant wife as she lay in bed early last July 4. His love affairs with other women prompted the crime, the prosecution claims.

Sheppard says an intruder killed her, and then struck him down, inflicting serious injuries, when he ran to her aid.

"Dr. Steve" Sheppard, first defense witness, testified he went into the bedroom at two separate times during the morning of July 4. He says he looked at Marilyn's body both times.

ON THE SECOND occasion, he said, he noticed that the position of her hands had been changed. And the jacket of her pajamas had been pulled down, covering more of her body than when he first viewed it, he added.

The implication in this was that someone tampered with the evidence between the two times he saw Marilyn's body.

Under cross-questioning, however, "Dr. Steve" said the changes became apparent to him from looking at police photographs.

Assistant prosecutor Thomas Parrino read his earlier statement and asked:

"THE TESTIMONY you gave in this case that the first time you observed these changes was in the photographs yesterday—is that true or false?"

After some verbal sparring, the witness replied:

"That is not true."

Similarly, Parrino pointed out

25 Billion Road Program Asked

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—A recommendation by the nation's governors that the federal government spend 25 billion dollars on a 10-year highway plan was being studied today for possible inclusion in President Eisenhower's 1955 legislative program.

Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana yesterday presented the plan to Eisenhower, who was reported "very pleased" with it. The program calls for building a nationwide interstate highway system and urges the states to match federal spending.

The governors' plan would be an addition to normal state and federal highway spending. Kennon, chairman of the governors' conference, said the 10-year road program might thus reach 90 billions.

Goshen Man Held On Two Charges After Collision

A Goshen man was arrested on two charges after his automobile collided head-on with another vehicle on Route 9W near Port Ewen about 1 a. m. today, state police reported.

Harold B. Gregg, 53, of 226 Greenwich avenue, Goshen, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., on charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. Innocent pleas to both charges were entered and Gregg was released on $100 bail for hearing Friday evening.

TROOPERS SAID the Gregg vehicle passed an unknown vehicle headed north on Route 9W and collided head-on with the automobile of Percy Pittman, Jr., 29, of 123 Hamilton street, Poughkeepsie. No one was reported hurt.

During the arraignment of Gregg before Justice Palen early today another man, identified as Albert A. Green, 34, of Esopus, walked into the court and asked troopers for a ride home. Observing his condition, the troopers placed Green under arrest on a public intoxication charge and after arraigning him gave him a ride to the Ulster county jail, where he was held for a hearing tonight.

Approval Is Seen For Atomic Plan

Democrats Divided On Naming Leader

New Orleans, Dec. 4 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson and Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas tested their Democratic Party strength today in a clash over the election of a new national chairman to succeed Stephen A. Mitchell.

Stevenson, the 1952 presidential nominee, called for immediate action by the national committee to name a new leader for the 1956 campaign in which the former Illinois governor has given increasing signs he hopes again to be the party's standard-bearer.

RAYBURN, WHO is scheduled to become speaker of the House in the 84th Congress and represents the veteran wing of the party, said in a statement last night that "under all the circumstances, I think it would be better to postpone the election . . . until a later date."

Replied Stevenson, here to speak at a $100 a plate party dinner tonight:

"While I don't know all of the circumstances, I think that 70 or more members of the national committee could reach a decision without a postponement."

Mitchell said at least 71 were on hand, most of them ready to vote.

Neither Stevenson nor Rayburn took a public stand in favor of any of the three leading candidates to replace Mitchell, Stevenson's hand-picked chairman who has insisted that he is quitting Jan. 1 even if no one is chosen to fill his place.

THE THREE CANDIDATES are Paul M. Butler, Indiana national committeeman; Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo, Ohio, mayor and price administrator, and James Finnegan, president of the Philadelphia city council.

Stevenson said he was keeping "hands off" the choice of Mitchell's successor and these three, along with several other prospective candidates, would be acceptable to him. Rayburn made it evident he wants none of the three. He said the party ought to take time out to pick somebody more "schooled" in politics, but did not indicate he had anyone in mind.

These conflicting viewpoints plunged the Democratic National Committee into a new controversy over party control only a few hours after it had washed out its long-standing, party-splitting fight over the so-called "loyalty oath."

An advisory committee of 69, headed by Mitchell, came up with the conclusion after several hours of debate that no Democrat should be required to sign any document guaranteeing that he would support the national nominees, as some northern Democrats had proposed in the past.

Instead, Mitchell and Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and former Gov. John Battle of Virginia, said that efforts will be made to find some way of making certain that the national nominees get on each state's ballot— as they failed to do in

Harriman Names Likely Successor For DuMond Post

Syracuse, Dec. 4 (AP)—Daniel C. Carey of Groton, a former U. S. Agriculture Department official, is reported as Gov.-elect Averell Harriman's likely choice for appointment as state commissioner of agriculture and markets.

Sources in the Democratic party and in agriculture circles said yesterday that they understood Harriman would announce Carey's appointment next week, to succeed C. Chester DuMond, a Republican, who operated a fruit farm in Ulster Park prior to his appointment to the state post on May 19, 1943. His son now runs the farm.

A PAST MASTER of Ulster Grange 969, DuMond is prominent in Grange circles throughout the state. He will give up his post December 31.

Carey, in response to queries about the report, told a newsman yesterday that he had met with Harriman in New York city Thursday, at the governor-elect's request, and that they had discussed Carey's qualifications for the post.

But he added, "as far as I know no selection has been made yet." He declined further comment on the meeting.

In New Orleans, where Harriman was attending a Democratic National Committee meeting, Charles Van Devander, the

Stores Will Open Evenings Dec. 16

Kingston stores in the uptown business section will remain open evenings beginning Thursday, December 16, instead of Friday, December 17, as formerly announced.

Merchants feel that the shopping public should have the additional day since the stores will close on Christmas eve, December 24, at 5 o'clock.

Following a poll among the merchants of the uptown business section this week it was found a majority of those reporting, favored the additional day for the shoppers convenience. Friday an announcement was made by the committee which conducted the poll that the late evening hour would begin on Thursday, December 16.

Final Vote Set Today By Group

Action Is Sought To Free 11 Airmen

United Nations, Dec. 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan was scheduled to come up for a final vote in the General Assembly today and expectations were that the resolution would receive unanimous approval.

As the 60-nation body gathered for the session the United States sought assembly action to win freedom for 11 American airmen jailed by Red China on spy charges. The move had the firm backing of Washington's 15 Korean allies.

THE ATOMIC resolution calls for the establishment of an international agency to sponsor the peaceful use and sharing of atomic energy. Both the United States and Britain already have offered to contribute fissionable material to start an international stockpile for peaceful purposes.

The proposal also calls for an international technical conference on peaceful atomic energy uses to be held not later than next August at a place still to be decided. Organized under UN auspices, this meeting would be open to all nations in the UN or its specialized agencies.

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Assembly would be asked to consider the case of the 11 Americans jailed in Red China was made last night by chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. He said the 16 Korean allies had agreed to bring the issue up at the earliest possible date.

Lodge talked with representatives of the 16 nations shortly after a secret consultation with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, who flew up from Washington.

One allied diplomat said, to save time, the case might go directly to the Assembly without clearing through usual committee channels. Other informants said, however, they expected the 16 nations to join Sunday or Monday in a request that the case be made a new item on the Assembly agenda.

AFTER LAST night's meeting of the 16—second in two days—Lodge told newsmen "there is marvelous and inspiring unanimity on the vital need to get release of the 11 American men and of all others who fought as members of the UN command and are detained in violation of the Korean armistice agreement."

Shortly before Lodge made his announcement, the British foreign office disclosed that the Churchill government had lined up with the United States in efforts to free the men.

U. S. congressmen have demanded UN action to free the men, captured during the Korean War in which they flew under the UN flag. The Red Chinese also sentenced two civilian employes of the U. S. Army, captured along with the airmen.

Ithaca Meeting May Result in Clash Between Farm Organizations, Harriman

Syracuse, Dec. 4 (AP)—Leaders of some of New York state's large, influential—and heavily Republican—farm organizations have their fingers crossed over Averell Harriman's election as governor.

Representatives of eight of those organizations will huddle in Ithaca next Thursday to mull over the situation.

THE ORGANIZATIONS appear to be heading for some resounding collisions with the new Democratic chief executive. There may be a showdown early in January as a result of the Ithaca meeting.

Harriman met briefly and informally with members of the resolutions committee of the State Farm Bureau Federation here Nov. 13. Reports of what Harriman said were conflicting and did little to ease the jittery feeling that's apparent in farm circles.

Probably all the leaders of the various organizations have by now heard some version of the meeting and are wondering how their group will fare under Harriman.

THOSE PRESENT at the meeting agreed that Harriman was blunt in pointing out that he expected to disagree with the farm organizations on some issues.

Some said they thought Harriman simply was taking note of the Republican strength in farm organizations. Others brought away the impression that Harriman was not happy with the structure of some farm organizations and the methods they use to lobby for legislation and higher prices.

A SPOKESMAN for Harriman said the governor-elect certainly didn't have a chip on his shoulder. The spokesman said Harriman told the group he was well aware that most of them hadn't voted for him, but that he felt they would be able to get along and that if both sides showed willingness to cooperate, a much improved farm program could result.

Don. J. Wickman of Hector, Farm Bureau president and chairman of the Resolutions committee, said:

"I invited Harriman to the meeting. I certainly didn't think he was belligerent. He did say there was some things we surely wouldn't agree on. But I didn't get the impression that he was going to by-pass the farm organizations."

WICKHAM also is vice chairman of the Conference Board of

Third of Ballots In for CC Voting

Active interest was reported today in the election of directors in the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. One hundred and 30 ballot envelopes were received in the first mail delivery Friday representing nearly one-third of the eligible votes. Each member votes for seven directors to be elected for a term of three years.

Election ballots were mailed Wednesday and the first returns were received Friday. The envelopes will be opened and the ballots counted on or soon after Dec. 13 by the election committee.

In making this announcement today William R. Stall, chairman of the election committee, urged that all eligible voting members mark their ballots and return same in the envelopes provided for that purpose.

Two Senators Urge Revamping Rules Governing Investigations

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Sens. Watkins (R-Utah) and Stennis (D.-Miss.) urged today that the Senate revamp its rules governing investigating committees as a follow up to its condemnation of Sen. McCarthy's conduct.

Watkins said rules changes proposed by the special censure committee he headed "would help to bring about needed reforms" in the procedures of Senate investigating committees.

Stennis, who served with Watkins on the special committee, said in a separate interview the new Senate should adopt the recommended rules changes after it convenes next month.

THE SIX-MEMBER bipartisan committee suggested four Senate rules changes in its report recommending that the Wisconsin Republican's conduct be condemned. The committee said it felt "much of the criticism against investigative committee hearings would have been avoided" if certain rules changes had been in effect.

One of the proposed changes would—except under certain conditions—bar one-man hearings such as those McCarthy has conducted as chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

ANOTHER RECOMMENDED change would permit witnesses to be questioned only by committee members or by authorized personnel. A third would bar public disclosure of testimony taken in closed hearings, except by majority vote of a committee.

The fourth proposed change would require vouchers covering expenditures by any investigating committee to be accompanied by its chairman's signed statement that the investigation was conducted in accordance with Senate rules.

In a side matter related to the censure issue, a special two-man Senate committee recommended yesterday that the fact about a check put on McCarthy's mail in 1952 be referred to the Justice Department for possible action. The recommendation will go to the Senate after it returns.

UNDER A MAIL check or "cover," postal officials make note of the names and addresses of persons sending letters, cards, etc. to specified individuals. Sen. Hayden (D.-Ariz.), a member of the elections group in 1952, said in the Senate the check was used

Governor-Elect Would Hold Ike Responsible for Party

New Orleans, Dec. 4 (AP)—Averell Harriman, Democratic governor-elect of New York, says the Democrats ought to start holding President Eisenhower "responsible for the action of the Republican party."

Speaking as a panel member at a meeting of the Democratic National Committee, Harriman said yesterday that Eisenhower had erred when the President said recently that there would be a "cold war" in Washington if the Democrats won control of Congress.

Harriman said the President was having more trouble with his own party than with the Democrats and had admitted that the statement was a mistake.

"It's time," said Harriman, "that we quit this business of excluding President Eisenhower from campaigns and not holding him responsible for the actions of the Republican party."

The panel, comprised of six governors-elect and two senators-elect, discussed how the Democrats won in 1954 "and can win again in '56."

Harriman said the President had tremendous personal appeal, but it "is not enough to pull the Republican party through."

THE SCHEME, described by Silver, was as follows:

Ricco was to leave his apartment at 383 East 135th St. to walk the dog last night, as was his custom.

When the dog and master reached a certain elevated train pillar, Bezer was to ram into him with his taxi, crushing him against the pillar. Bezer had been told just where to wait and also that it would be arranged for Ricco to be wearing a red jacket that night.

The brakes of Bezer's cab were to be disabled deliberately in order to help win a sizable award in a negligence suit that the widow would bring against his company.

ALTHOUGH THE ALLEGED schemers had trailed Ricco on his nightly walks and knew that the dog normally stopped at a certain pillar, they planned to hold him there a little longer on his particular night by scattering meat in the area.

Silver said Bezer learned about the plot and his role in it from Miss Rainey, who gave him instructions bit by bit. Bezer, whose address and taxi company name were temporarily withheld, was described as a student of criminology.

Both Bezer and Mrs. Sabella gave statements to police, Silver said, but the other two women refused to talk during several hours of questioning after their arrests.

SILVER SAID as a result of this plot, he plans to reopen an investigation into the near fatal shooting of Ricco on May 27, 1953.

On that night, Silver said, Mrs. Ricco was out, supposedly (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Sheppard Story Is Fined Combed By Prosecution

Cleveland, Dec. 4 (AP)—Prosecution lawyers were poring over testimony in the murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard today, searching for new points to attack the story his witnesses are unfolding.

They already have struck at the defense in several vital areas.

Cross-examination forced Sheppard's older brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard, to admit he gave different versions of the same episode, and that one of these versions was untrue.

STATE'S ATTORNEYS also hammered hard at his report that he found his brother seriously injured the morning of the murder of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard.

The trial goes into its eighth week Monday.

The state charges that "Dr. Sam" Sheppard, natty Cleveland osteopath, killed his pregnant wife as she lay in bed early last July 4. His love affairs with other women prompted the crime, the prosecution claims.

Sheppard says an intruder killed her, and then struck him down, inflicting serious injuries, when he ran to her aid.

"Dr. Steve" Sheppard, first defense witness, testified he went into the bedroom at two separate times during the morning of July 4. He says he looked at Marilyn's body both times.

ON THE SECOND occasion, he said, he noticed that the position of her hands had been changed. And the jacket of her pajamas had been pulled down, covering more of her body than when he first viewed it, he added.

The implication in this was that someone tampered with the evidence between the two times he saw Marilyn's body.

Under cross-questioning, however, "Dr. Steve" said the changes became apparent to him from looking at police photographs.

Assistant prosecutor Thomas Parrino read his earlier statement and asked:

"THE TESTIMONY you gave in this case that the first time you observed these changes was in the photographs yesterday—is that true or false?"

After some verbal sparring, the witness replied:

"That is not true."

25 Billion Road Program Asked

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—A recommendation by the nation's governors that the federal government spend 25 billion dollars on a 10-year highway plan was being studied today for possible inclusion in President Eisenhower's 1955 legislative program.

Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana yesterday presented the plan to Eisenhower, who was reported "very pleased" with it. The program calls for building a nationwide interstate highway system and urges the states to match federal spending.

The governors' plan would be an addition to normal state and federal highway spending. Kennon, chairman of the governors' conference, said the 10-year road program might thus reach 90 billions.

Goshen Man Held On Two Charges After Collision

A Goshen man was arrested on two charges after his automobile collided head-on with another vehicle on Route 9W near Port Ewen about 1 a. m. today, state police reported.

Harold B. Gregg, 53, of 226 Greenwich avenue, Goshen, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., on charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. Innocent pleas to both charges were entered and Gregg was released on $100 bail for hearing Friday evening.

TROOPERS SAID the Gregg vehicle passed an unknown vehicle headed north on Route 9W and collided head-on with the automobile of Percy Pittman, Jr., 29, of 123 Hamilton street, Poughkeepsie. No one was reported hurt.

During the arraignment of Gregg before Justice Palen early today another man, identified as Albert A. Green, 34, of Esopus, walked into the court and asked troopers for a ride home. Observing his condition, the troopers placed Green under arrest on a public intoxication charge and after arraigning him gave him a ride to the Ulster county jail, where he was held for a hearing tonight.

Democrats Divided On Naming Leader

New Orleans, Dec. 4 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson and Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas tested their Democratic Party strength today in a clash over the election of a new national chairman to succeed Stephen A. Mitchell.

Stevenson, the 1952 presidential nominee, called for immediate action by the national committee to name a new leader for the 1956 campaign in which the former Illinois governor has given increasing signs he hopes again to be the party's standard-bearer.

RAYBURN, WHO is scheduled to become speaker of the House in the 84th Congress and represents the veteran wing of the party, said in a statement last night that "under all the circumstances, I think it would be better to postpone the election . . . until a later date."

Replied Stevenson, here to speak at a $100 a plate party dinner tonight:

"While I don't know all of the circumstances, I think that 70 or more members of the national committee could reach a decision without a postponement."

Mitchell said at least 71 were on hand, most of them ready to vote.

Neither Stevenson nor Rayburn took a public stand in favor of any of the three leading candidates to replace Mitchell, Stevenson's hand-picked chairman who has insisted that he is quitting Jan. 1 even if no one is chosen to fill his place.

THE THREE CANDIDATES are Paul M. Butler, Indiana national committeeman; Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo, Ohio, mayor and price administrator, and James Finnegan, president of the Philadelphia city council.

Stevenson said he was keeping "hands off" the choice of Mitchell's successor and these three, along with several other prospective candidates, would be acceptable to him. Rayburn made it evident he wants none of the three. He said the party ought to take time out to pick somebody more "schooled" in politics, but did not indicate he had anyone in mind.

These conflicting viewpoints plunged the Democratic National Committee into a new controversy over party control only a few hours after it had washed out its long-standing, party-splitting fight over the so-called "loyalty oath."

An advisory committee of 69, headed by Mitchell, came up with the conclusion after several hours of debate that no Democrat should be required to sign any document guaranteeing that he would support the national nominees, as some northern Democrats had proposed in the past.

Instead, Mitchell and Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and former Gov. John Battle of Virginia, said that efforts will be made to find some way of making certain that the national nominees get on each state's ballot— as they failed to do in (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Harriman Names Likely Successor For DuMond Post

Syracuse, Dec. 4 (AP)—Daniel C. Carey of Groton, a former U. S. Agriculture Department official, is reported as Gov.-elect Averell Harriman's likely choice for appointment as state commissioner of agriculture and markets.

Sources in the Democratic party and in agriculture circles said yesterday that they understood Harriman would announce Carey's appointment next week, to succeed C. Chester DuMond, a Republican, who operated a fruit farm in Ulster Park prior to his appointment to the state post on May 19, 1943. His son now runs the farm.

A PAST MASTER of Ulster Grange 969, DuMond is prominent in Grange circles throughout the state. He will give up his post December 31.

Carey, in response to queries about the report, told a newsman yesterday that he had met with Harriman in New York city Thursday, at the governor-elect's request, and that they had discussed Carey's qualifications for the post.

But he added, "as far as I know no selection has been made yet." He declined further comment on the meeting.

Kingston stores in the uptown business section will remain open evenings beginning Thursday, December 16, instead of Friday, December 17, as formerly announced.

Following a poll among the merchants of the uptown business section this week it was found a majority of those reporting, favored the additional day for the shoppers convenience. Friday an announcement was made by the committee which conducted the poll that the late evening hour would begin on Thursday, December 16.

Final Vote Set Today By Group

Action Is Sought To Free 11 Airmen

United Nations, Dec. 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan was scheduled to come up for a final vote in the General Assembly today and expectations were that the resolution would receive unanimous approval.

As the 60-nation body gathered for the session the United States sought assembly action to win freedom for 11 American airmen jailed by Red China on spy charges. The move had the firm backing of Washington's 15 Korean allies.

THE ATOMIC resolution calls for the establishment of an international agency to sponsor the peaceful use and sharing of atomic energy. Both the United States and Britain already have offered to contribute fissionable material to start an international stockpile for peaceful purposes.

The proposal also calls for an international technical conference on peaceful atomic energy uses to be held not later than next August at a place still to be decided. Organized under UN auspices, this meeting would be open to all nations in the UN or its specialized agencies.

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Assembly would be asked to consider the case of the 11 Americans jailed in Red China was made last night by chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. He said the 16 Korean allies had agreed to bring the issue up at the earliest possible date.

Lodge talked with representatives of the 16 nations shortly after a secret consultation with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, who flew up from Washington.

One allied diplomat said, to save time, the case might go directly to the Assembly without clearing through usual committee channels. Other informants said, however, they expected the 16 nations to join Sunday or Monday in a request that the case be made a new item on the Assembly agenda.

AFTER LAST night's meeting of the 16—second in two days—Lodge told newsmen "there is marvelous and inspiring unanimity on the vital need to get release of the 11 American men and of all others who fought as members of the UN command and are detained in violation of the Korean armistice agreement."

Shortly before Lodge made his announcement, the British foreign office disclosed that the Churchill government had lined up with the United States in efforts to free the men.

U. S. congressmen have demanded UN action to free the men, captured during the Korean War in which they flew under the UN flag. The Red Chinese also sentenced two civilian employes of the U. S. Army, captured along with the airmen. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Ithaca Meeting May Result in Clash Between Farm Organizations, Harriman

Syracuse, Dec. 4 (AP)—Leaders of some of New York state's large, influential—and heavily Republican—farm organizations have their fingers crossed over Averell Harriman's election as governor.

Representatives of eight of those organizations will huddle in Ithaca next Thursday to mull over the situation.

THE ORGANIZATIONS appear to be heading for some resounding collisions with the new Demceratic chief executive. There may be a showdown early in January as a result of the Ithaca meeting.

Harriman met briefly and informally with members of the resolutions committee of the State Farm Bureau Federation here Nov. 13. Reports of what Harriman said were conflicting and did little to ease the jittery feeling that's apparent in farm circles.

Probably all the leaders of the various organizations have by now heard some version of the meeting and are wondering how their group will fare under Harriman.

THOSE PRESENT at the meeting agreed that Harriman was blunt in pointing out that he expected to disagree with the farm organizations on some issues.

Some said they thought Harriman simply was taking note of the Republican strength in farm organizations. Others brought away the impression that Harriman was not happy with the structure of some farm organizations and the methods they use to lobby for legislation and higher prices.

A SPOKESMAN for Harriman said the governor-elect certainly didn't have a chip on his shoulder. The spokesman said Harriman told the group he was well aware that most of them hadn't voted for him, but that he felt they would be able to get along and that if both sides showed willingness to cooperate, a much improved farm program could result.

Don. J. Wickman of Hector, Farm Bureau president and chairman of the Resolutions committee, said:

"I invited Harriman to the meeting. I certainly didn't think he was belligerent. He did say there was some things we surely wouldn't agree on. But I didn't get the impression that he was going to by-pass the farm organizations."

Governor-Elect Would Hold Ike Responsible for Party

New Orleans, Dec. 4 (AP)—Averell Harriman, Democratic governor-elect of New York, says the Democrats ought to start holding President Eisenhower "responsible for the action of the Republican party."

Speaking as a panel member at a meeting of the Democratic National Committee, Harriman said yesterday that Eisenhower had erred when the President said recently that there would be a "cold war" in Washington if the Democrats won control of Congress.

Harriman said the President was having more trouble with his own party than with the Democrats and had admitted that the statement was a mistake.

"It's time," said Harriman, "that we quit this business of excluding President Eisenhower from campaigns and not holding him responsible for the actions of the Republican party."

The panel, comprised of six governors-elect and two senators-elect, discussed how the Democrats won in 1954 "and can win again in '56."

Harriman said the President had tremendous personal appeal, but it "is not enough to pull the Republican party through."

Third of Ballots In for CC Voting

Active interest was reported today in the election of directors in the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. One hundred and 30 ballot envelopes were received in the first mail delivery Friday representing nearly one-third of the eligible votes. Each member votes for seven directors to be elected for a term of three years.

Election ballots were mailed Wednesday and the first returns were received Friday. The envelopes will be opened and the ballots counted on or soon after Dec. 13 by the election committee.

In making this announcement today William R. Stall, chairman of the election committee, urged that all eligible voting members mark their ballots and return same in the envelopes provided for that purpose.

Two Senators Urge Revamping Rules Governing Investigations

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Sens. Watkins (R-Utah) and Stennis (D.-Miss.) urged today that the Senate revamp its rules governing investigating committees as a follow up to its condemnation of Sen. McCarthy's conduct.

Watkins said rules changes proposed by the special censure committee he headed "would help to bring about needed reforms" in the procedures of Senate investigating committees.

Stennis, who served with Watkins on the special committee, said in a separate interview the new Senate should adopt the recommended rules changes after it convenes next month.

THE SIX-MEMBER bipartisan committee suggested four Senate rules changes in its report recommending that the Wisconsin Republican's conduct be condemned. The committee said it felt "much of the criticism against investigative committee hearings would have been avoided" if certain rules changes had been in effect.

One of the proposed changes would—except under certain conditions—bar one-man hearings such as those McCarthy has conducted as chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

ANOTHER RECOMMENDED change would permit witnesses to be questioned only by committee members or by authorized personnel. A third would bar public disclosure of testimony taken in closed hearings, except by majority vote of a committee.

The fourth proposed change would require vouchers covering expenditures by any investigating committee to be accompanied by its chairman's signed statement that the investigation was conducted in accordance with Senate rules.

In a side matter related to the censure issue, a special two-man Senate committee recommended yesterday that the fact about a check put on McCarthy's mail in 1952 be referred to the Justice Department for possible action. The recommendation will go to the Senate after it returns.

UNDER A MAIL check or "cover," postal officials make note of the names and addresses of persons sending letters, cards, etc. to specified individuals. Sen. Hayden (D.-Ariz.), a member of the elections group in 1952, said in the Senate the check was used (Continued on Page 10, Col. 7)

Pope Is Better; Has No Cancer

78-Year-Old Pontiff Is Reported Resting Easily; Has Conferences With Some of Leading Prelates

Vatican City, Dec. 4 (AP)—Pope Pius XII got a little better again today and specialists dispelled fears that the seriously ailing pontiff has cancer.

Two clinical experts who took part in a bedside conference last midnight said the Pope was not suffering from a tumoral sac of the digestive tubes.

The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church suffered a collapse Thursday that brought him close to death. But his sturdy heart pulled him through that crisis and through the hours that allowed him to strengthen.

"Everything looks better," Dr. Luciano Casimiri, a Vatican spokesman, said as he returned to the papal apartment earlier today to issue the morning communique.

The statement containing the report said:

"TWO CLINICAL DOCTORS consulted yesterday, Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini and the surgeon Prof. Raffaele Paolucci Di Valmaggiore issued the following report.

"The clinical facts resulting from the history, notwithstanding the fact we could not make a complete radiological examination, exclude there being any tumoral sac of the digestive tubes.

"THE HICCUPS from which the Holy Father has suffered at various times can be attributed to a gastritical or ulcerative fact.

"Because, also, of the high gastric acidity controlled, it is to be excluded that a toxic condition could have contributed to the beginning of the syndrome (a group of symptoms).

"From an objective point of view the condition of the cardio-circulatory apparatus are in optimum condition, the lungs are untouched. In the abdomen there does not exist free liquid: It is tractable in all its quandrants, painful only slightly in the superior right one (quadrant) where on the other side the Holy Father for years has complained of such pain.

"AT THE PRESENT state of things it is believed indispensable to succeed in feeding His Holiness. This may be accomplished either by parenteral (i.e., non-intestinal) way or through a tube, after having emptied the stomach of acid excretions and eventual stagnations and having proceeded also to a slight akaline washing.

"The good condition of the hematosis (arterialization of blood in the lungs) does not render necessary blood transfusions, but it will be opportune to make some infusions of plasma and to continue with the amino acids (acids derived from protein) of which we have already started the treatment. Any other therapy in the present condition is to be suspended. It is imperative to reestablish the strength of His Holiness. His strength, without any doubt, will recover rapidly if a gradual feeding is carried out and the therapy of vitamins and liver extract, already started, is continued."

THE POPE was resting fairly easily in his white-walled bed chamber in the Vatican Palace. Despite grave weakness, his morning included conferences with leading prelates interpreted here as probably designed to two ends:

1. Delegation of some of his duties during his severe illness.
2. Preparation for a possible bedside consistory at which the six vacancies in the College of Cardinals would be filled.

The announcement was foreshadowed earlier when two cardinals emerged from a bedside audience with the Pope and reported finding him "much better and more cheerful."

THE TWO PRELATES, Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the College of Cardinals, and Nicola Cardinal Canali, said the Pope spent a comparatively restful night.

The Cardinals said the Pope

M. W. Bence GE Manager In Monterrey

Matthew W. Bence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew F. Bence of 259 Lucas avenue, has assumed duties as manager of the General Electric Company in Monterrey, Mexico, The Freeman has learned.

Bence, who is 35, an electrical engineer, was with the International General Electric Company in Saudi, Arabia, before his assignment to Monterrey. His wife and two children are with him.

ACCORDING to an article in one of the Monterrey newspapers, Bence replaces F. M. Corliss who has been assigned to the Far East. He was quoted as saying he was very happy to return to this hospitable and industrial town, particularly because on this trip I do not come as a visitor but to live here." The article continues:

"Mr. Bence, who is accompanied by his wife and two children, were received at the airport by Mr. M. R. LaMontagne, technician, and Roberto J. Lira, commercial representative of domestic appliances of the GE Company in Monterrey.

"TO OUR INQUIRY regarding the factory that General Electric is constructing on Cuauhtemoc street close to Lamparas Electricas Mexicanas, S. A., he indicated that he had no connection with the new factory that will give work to 600 local laborers."

The article quoted Bence as saying that he was not acquainted with the new factory. "The only thing I know is that our company is trying to expand its operations in Monterrey."

HE SAID HIS MISSION was to promote the sale of electrical equipment. "Naturally, I have the firm intention of promoting to a maximum the sale of the products manufactured by General Electric." He considers Monterrey one of the most important markets in the Republic for GE products.

Bence graduated from Kingston High School in 1937 and from Pratt Institute, School of Science and Technology, in 1941.

DURING WORLD WAR 2 he served in Germany and France as battalion engineer with the 765th Railway Shop Battalion. He was in charge of all engineering and construction work of the battalion.

He has since traveled extensively throughout the United States, Europe, Asia and South America as a representative of the International General Electric Company.

Three Women Charged With Plotting Murder

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Three Bronx women were charged today with plotting to murder the husband of one, allegedly for his $3,000 insurance and the hope of $100,000 in a trumped-up negligence suit.

The victim, James Ricco, 40, was to be crushed to death against an elevated train pillar in a faked taxi accident, Bronx Asst. Dist. Atty. Louis Silver said. The scheme came to light about a week ago, Silver said, when taxidriver Fred Bezer, 34, became increasingly alarmed about his role in the plot.

Bezer was described as the boy friend of one of the three women, all of whom were arrested last night shortly before Ricco was to have been killed.

THE THREE WOMEN arrested were Ricco's wife, Patricia, 30, Mrs. Ann Sabella, 27, (of 347 East 135th street), and Mrs. Sabella's sister, Edia Rainey, 25, (of 371 East 135th street).

Ricco and his blonde wife are the parents of three daughters, aged nine, seven and five.

Silver said money collected from the murder was to be divided between Bezer, Mrs. Ricco and Miss Rainey. He said Mrs. Sabella was implicated in the conspiracy as a result of "police information" and that she "knew all about it."

THE SCHEME, described by Silver, was as follows:

Ricco was to leave his apartment at 383 East 135th St. to walk the dog last night, as was his custom.

A PAST MASTER of Ulster Grange 969, DuMond is prominent in Grange circles throughout the state. He will give up his post December 31.

Carey, in response to queries about the report, told a newsman yesterday that he had met with Harriman in New York city Thursday, at the governor-elect's request, and that they had discussed Carey's qualifications for the post.

But he added, "as far as I know no selection has been made yet." He declined further comment on the meeting.

Stores Will Open Evenings Dec. 16

Kingston stores in the uptown business section will remain open evenings beginning Thursday, December 16, instead of Friday, December 17, as formerly announced.

Merchants feel that the shopping public should have the additional day since the stores will close on Christmas eve, December 24, at 5 o'clock.

Following a poll among the merchants of the uptown business section this week it was found a majority of those reporting, favored the additional day for the shoppers convenience. Friday an announcement was made by the committee which conducted the poll that the late evening hour would begin on Thursday, December 16.

Final Vote Set Today By Group

Action Is Sought To Free 11 Airmen

United Nations, Dec. 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan was scheduled to come up for a final vote in the General Assembly today and expectations were that the resolution would receive unanimous approval.

As the 60-nation body gathered for the session the United States sought assembly action to win freedom for 11 American airmen jailed by Red China on spy charges. The move had the firm backing of Washington's 15 Korean allies.

THE ATOMIC resolution calls for the estabiishment of an international agency to sponsor the peaceful use and sharing of atomic energy. Both the United States and Britain already have offered to contribute fissionable material to start an international stockpile for peaceful purposes.

The proposal also calls for an international technical conference on peaceful atomic energy uses to be held not later than next August at a place still to be decided. Organized under UN auspices, this meeting would be open to all nations in the UN or its specialized agencies.

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Assembly would be asked to consider the case of the 11 Americans jailed in Red China was made last night by chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. He said the 16 Korean allies had agreed to bring the issue up at the earliest possible date.

Lodge talked with representatives of the 16 nations shortly after a secret consultation with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, who flew up from Washington.

One allied diplomat said, to save time, the case might go directly to the Assembly without clearing through usual committee channels. Other informants said, however, they expected the 16 nations to join Sunday or Monday in a request that the case be made a new item on the Assembly agenda.

AFTER LAST night's meeting of the 16—second in two days—Lodge told newsmen "there is marvelous and inspiring unanimity on the vital need to get release of the 11 American men and of all others who fought as members of the UN command and are detained in violation of the Korean armistice agreement."

Shortly before Lodge made his announcement, the British foreign office disclosed that the Churchill government had lined up with the United States in efforts to free the men.

U. S. congressmen have demanded UN action to free the men, captured during the Korean War in which they flew under the UN flag. The Red Chinese also sentenced two civilian employes of the U. S. Army, captured along with the airmen.

Ithaca Meeting May Result in Clash Between Farm Organizations, Harriman

Syracuse, Dec. 4 (AP)—Leaders of some of New York state's large, influential—and heavily Republican—farm organizations have their fingers crossed over Averell Harriman's election as governor.

Representatives of eight of those organizations will huddle in Ithaca next Thursday to mull over the situation.

THE ORGANIZATIONS appear to be heading for some resounding collisions with the new Democratic chief executive. There may be a showdown early in January as a result of the Ithaca meeting.

Harriman met briefly and informally with members of the resolutions committee of the State Farm Bureau Federation here Nov. 13. Reports of what Harriman said were conflicting and did little to ease the jittery feeling that's apparent in farm circles.

Probably all the leaders of the various organizations have by now heard some version of the meeting and are wondering how their group will fare under Harriman.

THOSE PRESENT at the meeting agreed that Harriman was blunt in pointing out that he expected to disagree with the farm organizations on some issues.

Some said they thought Harriman simply was taking note of the Republican strength in farm organizations. Others brought away the impression that Harriman was not happy with the structure of some farm organizations and the methods they use to lobby for legislation and higher prices.

A SPOKESMAN for Harriman said the governor-elect certainly didn't have a chip on his shoulder. The spokesman said Harriman told the group he was well aware that most of them hadn't voted for him, but that he felt they would be able to get along and that if both sides showed willingness to cooperate, a much improved farm program could result.

Don. J. Wickman of Hector, Farm Bureau president and chairman of the Resolutions committee, said:

"I invited Harriman to the meeting. I certainly didn't think he was belligerent. He did say there was some things we surely wouldn't agree on. But I didn't get the impression that he was going to by-pass the farm organizations."

WICKHAM also is vice chairman of the Conference Board of

Governor-Elect Would Hold Ike Responsible for Party

New Orleans, Dec. 4 (AP)—Averell Harriman, Democratic governor-elect of New York, says the Democrats ought to start holding President Eisenhower "responsible for the action of the Republican party."

Speaking as a panel member at a meeting of the Democratic National Committee, Harriman said yesterday that Eisenhower had erred when the President said recently that there would be a "cold war" in Washington if the Democrats won control of Congress.

Harriman said the President was having more trouble with his own party than with the Democrats and had admitted that the statement was a mistake.

"It's time," said Harriman, "that we quit this business of excluding President Eisenhower from campaigns and not holding him responsible for the actions of the Republican party."

The panel, comprised of six governors-elect and two senators-elect, discussed how the Democrats won in 1954 "and can win again in '56."

Harriman said the President had tremendous personal appeal, but it "is not enough to pull the Republican party through."

Third of Ballots In for CC Voting

Active interest was reported today in the election of directors in the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. One hundred and 30 ballot envelopes were received in the first mail delivery Friday representing nearly one-third of the eligible votes. Each member votes for seven directors to be elected for a term of three years.

Election ballots were mailed Wednesday and the first returns were received Friday. The envelopes will be opened and the ballots counted on or soon after Dec. 13 by the election committee.

In making this announcement today William R. Stall, chairman of the election committee, urged that all eligible voting members mark their ballots and return same in the envelopes provided for that purpose.

Two Senators Urge Revamping Rules Governing Investigations

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Sens. Watkins (R-Utah) and Stennis (D.-Miss.) urged today that the Senate revamp its rules governing investigating committees as a follow up to its condemnation of Sen. McCarthy's conduct.

Watkins said rules changes proposed by the special censure committee he headed "would help to bring about needed reforms" in the procedures of Senate investigating committees.

Stennis, who served with Watkins on the special committee, said in a separate interview the new Senate should adopt the recommended rules changes after it convenes next month.

THE SIX-MEMBER bipartisan committee suggested four Senate rules changes in its report recommending that the Wisconsin Republican's conduct be condemned. The committee said it felt "much of the criticism against investigative committee hearings would have been avoided" if certain rules changes had been in effect.

One of the proposed changes would—except under certain conditions—bar one-man hearings such as those McCarthy has conducted as chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

ANOTHER RECOMMENDED change would permit witnesses to be questioned only by committee members or by authorized personnel. A third would bar public disclosure of testimony taken in closed hearings, except by majority vote of a committee.

The fourth proposed change would require vouchers covering expenditures by any investigating committee to be accompanied by its chairman's signed statement that the investigation was conducted in accordance with Senate rules.

In a side matter related to the censure issue, a special two-man Senate committee recommended yesterday that the fact about a check put on McCarthy's mail in 1952 be referred to the Justice Department for possible action. The recommendation will go to the Senate after it returns.

UNDER A MAIL check or "cover," postal officials make note of the names and addresses of persons sending letters, cards, etc. to specified individuals. Sen. Hayden (D.-Ariz.), a member of the elections group in 1952, said in the Senate the check was used

A Christmas Carol

By Charles Dickens

Young Scrooge used to have the time of his life at Old Fezziwig's Christmas parties. No one was jollier than Scrooge, none danced more with Fezziwig's six pretty daughters.

And never was there such music as used to come from Fezziwig's well-fueled fiddler!

High point of the evening was when the fiddle struck up "Sir Roger de Coverley" and Mr. Fezziwig took the floor with Mrs. Fezziwig.

Your Life And Mine

By Clyde Herbert Snell

When Dreams Strike Snags

A few years ago a calendar was distributed in our community which had a separate picture for each month—one that went with the season. The picture for December intrigued me. It showed the interior of a living room with a large picture window which looked out on an expanse of snow covered meadow, and the snow was still falling in large, economy-size flakes. At the left of the window was a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Standing in the middle of the picture, with his back toward the viewer, was a lad of six or seven summers, dressed in a new baseball suit, looking out the window at the snowy scene. His hands, folded behind his back, had a baseball glove on one and a baseball bat in the other. A nice new baseball nestled near his feet. All about him were scattered his other presents — a wagon, a boat, a tricycle, a kite and a pair of roller skates. Summer toys and winter weather! The falling snow and the drifting meadows were an enemy to every dream the boy had whirling in his head. Somewhere in my reading I have picked up this sentence: "Duck weather without and an assortment of thwarted weekend plans within." That was the sort of fix this lad was in.

The artist who painted that picture was etching something vastly bigger than a lad's dilemma with his unseasonable toys. How often it happens in life that our dreams have "hard sledding." They strike obstacles and encounter difficulties; and sometimes they bog down in the quagmire of impossibility. Life's seasons fail, so often, to cooperate with our dreams. We too stand with the lad and look out of life's window—wondering!

There is, however, more to this matter than at first strikes the eye. Probably one of the worst things that could ever happen to us would be to have every least whim granted. If dreams never struck obstacles we never could know the joy of achievement through struggle. Half the joy of achieving is to be found in the fact that we have pawed our way through the discouragements to our successes. If victory's only demand were "the dream"; laurels would be clap-trap. Patience, that precious virtue, is essential because dreams have a hard time of it. And can you imagine how meaningless life would be in a world where patience was unnecessary?

Snow, too, has a way of melting — come spring — and bikes and boats, baseballs and roller skates "get" their season, eventually. Dreams do not stay bogged down forever—especially if we have in our dreaming something of the eternal quality which Christmas really represents.

I found this sentence in a book of printed prayers: "Keep Thou my face, O Lord, calm in the heart-breaking crash of the overturned dream."

The Christmas Story

Mary Visits Elisabeth

AND Mary rose and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Juda; and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted his wife Elisabeth. And it came to pass that when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And blessed is she that believed, for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

A Christmas Carol

By Charles Dickens

Young Scrooge used to have the time of his life at Old Fezziwig's Christmas parties. No one was jollier than Scrooge, none danced more with Fezziwig's six pretty daughters.

And never was there such music as used to come from Fezziwig's well-fueled fiddler!

High point of the evening was when the fiddle struck up "Sir Roger de Coverley" and Mr. Fezziwig took the floor with Mrs. Fezziwig.

Your Life And Mine

By Clyde Herbert Snell

When Dreams Strike Snags

A few years ago a calendar was distributed in our community which had a separate picture for each month—one that went with the season. The picture for December intrigued me. It showed the interior of a living room with a large picture window which looked out on an expanse of snow covered meadow, and the snow was still falling in large, economy-size flakes. At the left of the window was a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Standing in the middle of the picture, with his back toward the viewer, was a lad of six or seven summers, dressed in a new baseball suit, looking out the window at the snowy scene. His hands, folded behind his back, had a baseball glove on one and a baseball bat in the other. A nice new baseball nestled near his feet. All about him were scattered his other presents — a wagon, a boat, a tricycle, a kite and a pair of roller skates. Summer toys and winter weather! The falling snow and the drifting meadows were an enemy to every dream the boy had whirling in his head. Somewhere in my reading I have picked up this sentence: "Duck weather without and an assortment of thwarted weekend plans within." That was the sort of fix this lad was in.

The artist who painted that picture was etching something vastly bigger than a lad's dilemma with his unseasonable toys. How often it happens in life that our dreams have "hard sledding." They strike obstacles and encounter difficulties; and sometimes they bog down in the quagmire of impossibility. Life's seasons fail, so often, to cooperate with our dreams. We too stand with the lad and look out of life's window—wondering!

There is, however, more to this matter than at first strikes the eye. Probably one of the worst things that could ever happen to us would be to have every least whim granted. If dreams never struck obstacles we never could know the joy of achievement through struggle. Half the joy of achieving is to be found in the fact that we have pawed our way through the discouragements to our successes. If victory's only demand were "the dream"; laurels would be clap-trap. Patience, that precious virtue, is essential because dreams have a hard time of it. And can you imagine how meaningless life would be in a world where patience was unnecessary?

Snow, too, has a way of melting — come spring — and bikes and boats, baseballs and roller skates "get" their season, eventually. Dreams do not stay bogged down forever—especially if we have in our dreaming something of the eternal quality which Christmas really represents.

I found this sentence in a book of printed prayers: "Keep Thou my face, O Lord, calm in the heart-breaking crash of the overturned dream."

Mary Visits Elisabeth

AND Mary rose and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Juda; and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted his wife Elisabeth. And it came to pass that when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And blessed is she that believed, for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

A Christmas Carol

By Charles Dickens

Young Scrooge used to have the time of his life at Old Fezziwig's Christmas parties. No one was jollier than Scrooge, none danced more with Fezziwig's six pretty daughters.

And never was there such music as used to come from Fezziwig's well-fueled fiddler!

High point of the evening was when the fiddle struck up "Sir Roger de Coverley" and Mr. Fezziwig took the floor with Mrs. Fezziwig.

Your Life And Mine

By Clyde Herbert Snell

When Dreams Strike Snags

A few years ago a calendar was distributed in our community which had a separate picture for each month—one that went with the season. The picture for December intrigued me. It showed the interior of a living room with a large picture window which looked out on an expanse of snow covered meadow, and the snow was still falling in large, economy-size flakes. At the left of the window was a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Standing in the middle of the picture, with his back toward the viewer, was a lad of six or seven summers, dressed in a new baseball suit, looking out the window at the snowy scene. His hands, folded behind his back, had a baseball glove on one and a baseball bat in the other. A nice new baseball nestled near his feet. All about him were scattered his other presents — a wagon, a boat, a tricycle, a kite and a pair of roller skates. Summer toys and winter weather! The falling snow and the drifting meadows were an enemy to every dream the boy had whirling in his head. Somewhere in my reading I have picked up this sentence: "Duck weather without and an assortment of thwarted weekend plans within." That was the sort of fix this lad was in.

The artist who painted that picture was etching something vastly bigger than a lad's dilemma with his unseasonable toys. How often it happens in life that our dreams have "hard sledding." They strike obstacles and encounter difficulties; and sometimes they bog down in the quagmire of impossibility. Life's seasons fail, so often, to cooperate with our dreams. We too stand with the lad and look out of life's window—wondering!

There is, however, more to this matter than at first strikes the eye. Probably one of the worst things that could ever happen to us would be to have every least whim granted. If dreams never struck obstacles we never could know the joy of achievement through struggle. Half the joy of achieving is to be found in the fact that we have pawed our way through the discouragements to our successes. If victory's only demand were "the dream"; laurels would be clap-trap. Patience, that precious virtue, is essential because dreams have a hard time of it. And can you imagine how meaningless life would be in a world where patience was unnecessary?

Snow, too, has a way of melting — come spring — and bikes and boats, baseballs and roller skates "get" their season, eventually. Dreams do not stay bogged down forever—especially if we have in our dreaming something of the eternal quality which Christmas really represents.

I found this sentence in a book of printed prayers: "Keep Thou my face, O Lord, calm in the heart-breaking crash of the overturned dream."

The Christmas Story

Retold in the words of the Holy Bible
by Norman Vincent Peale
Illustrated by Valenti Angelo

Mary Visits Elisabeth

AND Mary rose and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Juda; and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted his wife Elisabeth. And it came to pass that when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And blessed is she that believed, for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

'Fort Byron' Unusually Appealing

Rooms	six
Bedrooms	three
Closets	eight
Cubage
House	28,000 ft.
Garage	6,500 ft.
Dimensions
House	45' x 26'
Overall	74' x 29'

Called the "Fort Byron" this spacious one-story home, presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, would be a decorative asset in any neighborhood and a home in which any family would enjoy living.

Outside and inside this house is equally attractive. Masonry—with wood trim for added appeal—makes a most attractive finish for the exterior. Multi-colored roofing, too, can be used to good advantage.

74 Feet in Length

A large house, the "Fort Byron" has a total length of 74 feet. Measurements of the main house—this excludes the laundry utility wing and the attached garage—are 45 feet by 26 feet. Cubage of the house is 28,000 feet; cubage of the garage is 6500 feet. You should have at least a 100-foot lot if you plan to build this house.

The living room is easily the most attractive room in the house and the large multi-sectioned bay window is just as certainly the most distinctive and appealing decorative feature of the room. As a matter of fact, this window is a decorative asset to the whole house.

2 Regular Bedrooms

There are two regular bedrooms in this modern house. Both feature cross ventilation, good lighting and generous closet space. The all-modern bath—which is large enough to hold both a built-in shower and a tub — is conveniently placed between the two bedrooms.

If your family needs a third bedroom you can use the room designated as a den, dining room or bedroom for that purpose. Because of its size and design the living room can see service as a dining room as well.

In the laundry utility wing is the ideal location for the lavatory because there it is handy for the lady of the house busy with her daily tasks, for the youngsters when they come in from play and also for guests or family relaxing in the living room.

Easy access to the yard is provided from the laundry itself by a door in the back wall. The back gives protection to and from the garage.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

The Arctic Ocean has ice islands, but no icebergs.

Painter's Speed

A professional house painter can cover about 100 square feet of plain wall surface in an hour on a first coat and about 120 square feet on a second coat.

Lively Colors

Red, orange and yellow are all "warm" colors. They attract attention and give the impression of "lighting up" a room.

Remove Chalk

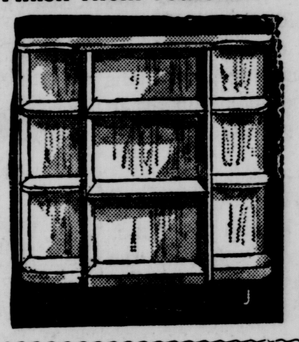

Before a heavily chalked surface is repainted, the chalk should be removed by scrubbing or by wire brushing.

Judges Are Named For Poster Art

Judges were named today for the poster contest sponsored by the Kingston Hospital Development Fund.

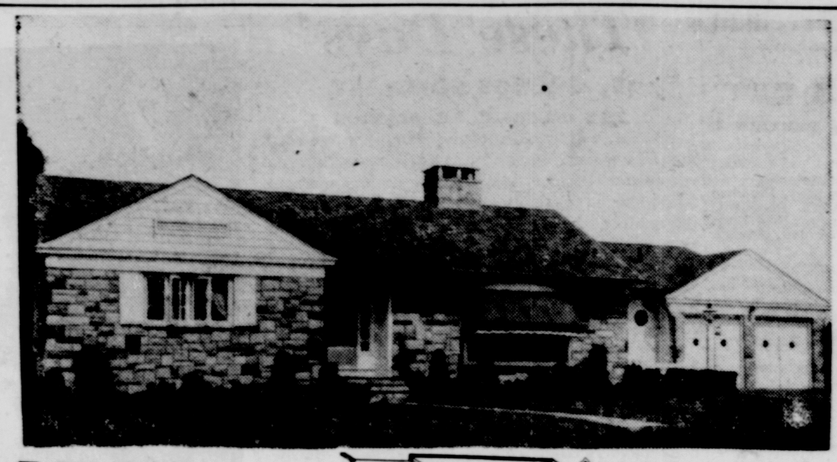

Winners will be chosen by a panel consisting of Paul W. Arndt, well-known Woodstock artist; Augustus P. Modjeska, president of Modjeska Sign Studios, Inc., and Clarence Dumm, retired principal of Kingston High School.

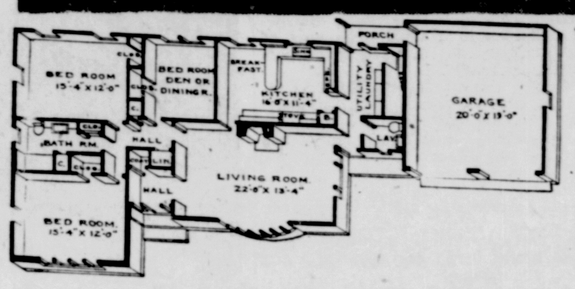

A total of 146 posters have been entered, according to Chester A. Baltz Jr., vice chairman of public relations. The contest was open to all junior and senior high school students in the county.

AWARDS INCLUDE a first prize of $10, second prize of $7.50, third prize of $5 and 10 commendation prizes of $2.50 each.

No rigid requirements as to subject matter were set, and students were allowed to use their own judgment in designing the posters to call attention to the services of a community hospital or to its need for funds for expansion.

In commenting on the entries, Baltz said, "These posters show a great amount of originality, artistic ability and a real understanding of the appeal of a voluntary hospital in caring for the health of a community."

FSC Nominates Carleton King For President

Carleton B. King, current vice president and for several years executive secretary of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county, has been nominated for president for 1955.

A bulletin from the Division of Conservation Education noted the results of the first week's hunting in the Adirondacks. A total of 3,670 antlerless deer seals were issued. Of a total of 804 deer taken, 226 had antlers of 3 inches or longer while 587 were antlerless deer.

'Fort Byron' Unusually Appealing

Rooms	six
Bedrooms	three
Closets	eight
Cubage
House	28,000 ft.
Garage	6,500 ft.
Dimensions
House	45' x 26'
Overall	74' x 29'

Called the "Fort Byron" this spacious one-story home, presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, would be a decorative asset in any neighborhood and a home in which any family would enjoy living.

Outside and inside this house is equally attractive. Masonry—with wood trim for added appeal—makes a most attractive finish for the exterior. Multi-colored roofing, too, can be used to good advantage.

74 Feet in Length

A large house, the "Fort Byron" has a total length of 74 feet. Measurements of the main house—this excludes the laundry utility wing and the attached garage—are 45 feet by 26 feet. Cubage of the house is 28,000 feet; cubage of the garage is 6500 feet. You should have at least a 100-foot lot if you plan to build this house.

The living room is easily the most attractive room in the house and the large multi-sectioned bay window is just as certainly the most distinctive and appealing decorative feature of the room. As a matter of fact, this window is a decorative asset to the whole house.

2 Regular Bedrooms

There are two regular bedrooms in this modern house. Both feature cross ventilation, good lighting and generous closet space. The all-modern bath—which is large enough to hold both a built-in shower and a tub — is conveniently placed between the two bedrooms.

If your family needs a third bedroom you can use the room designated as a den, dining room or bedroom for that purpose. Because of its size and design the living room can see service as a dining room as well.

In the laundry utility wing is the ideal location for the lavatory because there it is handy for the lady of the house busy with her daily tasks, for the youngsters when they come in from play and also for guests or family relaxing in the living room.

Easy access to the yard is provided from the laundry itself by a door in the back wall. The back gives protection to and from the garage.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

OUTGROWN ROADS

Fifty years ago a crystal gazer, well versed in the American's enjoyment of comfort and aware as well of the American's native practicality, would have looked at the current 1904 automobile and at the condition of the nation's roads and would have felt secure in the prognostication that by 1954 the roads of the United States would be far in advance, in design and construction, of the intricate gas buggy.

Perhaps it is symptomatic of this nation's love for tinkering, of its fascination for machinery, of its extraordinary ingenuity and cleverness that there has resulted the production of cars far more powerful and swift than the roads on which they are driven can bear. Cars built for the crowded highways, mountain passes, country lanes, city streets and milling turnpikes can easily attain 100 m.p.h. None of these roads was built for that kind of speed. Fast acceleration and power shifting have enabled our current cars to move from an idling neutral to a quick start once the red light changes. Pedestrians are not built for that kind of speed. Braking power, which is greatly improved, can not yet allow the speeding automobile to stop without skidding. But a skidding car rarely avoids an accident.

Americans have produced a complicated and a formidable machine in the current automobile. The production of such power was accomplished by a few men. Yet this power has been released into the hands of anyone with money enough to purchase it. The business of seeing to it that this powerful and, to all too many, mysterious and confusing machinery is rationally controlled is the business of everyone who crosses a street or drives a car.

Legislation and community activity designed for thorough driver training should be encouraged. The building and the improvement of roads that can accommodate these cars without endangering pedestrians or other drivers should be given support in the interest of safety for pedestrian and car owner alike.

COOPERATIVE AID

Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen is on the right tack when he says that the time has come for the free nations of Europe to help the United States build up the free nations of Asia.

After World War II we gave a great deal of help to Europe, then badly needed. Now many of those countries have recovered. The best way they could express their gratitude for the aid given them in their time of need would be to help in turn the part of the world which is still in need of assistance.

This would be desirable for several reasons. Despite our resources Asia needs more than we can give. By sharing the burden European nations would be relieving us. By making the aid to Asia a cooperative affair by all free nations it would be more valuable in building up the prestige of democracy in that part of the world.

Many European nations are still not sufficiently recovered to grant any large scale aid to Asia. But if each country gives according to its means the burden will be lighter for all and the dividends on the investment, for that is what it will be, will be greater. The building up of free Asia is as essential to the security of Europe as it is to the United States. It is right that those who will benefit should pay some share of the cost.

USEFUL PROPAGANDIST

A Negro churchman has proved, perhaps, to his own surprise, that he could be a useful propagandist for American Ideals. The Rev. Edgar A. Love, Methodist Bishop of Baltimore, has just returned from two months in British Malaya and Borneo. There natives were greatly astonished to find that a Negro could hold such a high position in this country. Communist agents had been telling them that in the United States Negroes were all slaves or near-slaves, with no legal rights.

Perhaps it would be well to send abroad more representatives of supposedly oppressed groups, to refute Communist propaganda by their presence.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE INTERNAL REVOLUTION

One of the arguments in favor of a "go-soft" attitude toward Soviet Russia is that an internal revolution is about to take place at any moment. Although no evidence is generally available on the subject, those who believe that such a revolution will take place base their conclusions on statements made by refugees and escapees who have been interviewed by American officials and by various associations which devote themselves to such activities.

The assumption is that the numerous peoples of the Soviet Universal State seek freedom and liberty on the Western model, a condition of life with which most of them have no familiarity. The vast freedoms which are so precious to us have never existed in Russia, Czarist or Bolshevik. They are unknown to a very large part of the human race and are not believed to be possible or reasonable by many.

In a huge empire the size of the Soviet Universal State, it is always possible that internal disturbances will develop, particularly among the nations on the periphery. Such disturbances are usually the result of one of several causes, to four of which I call attention:

1. Failure in war;
2. Dissent and internecine strife among the rulers;
3. Increasing and excessive luxury on the top levels leading to moral decay and disrespect for authority among the people;
4. Natural disasters, including famines, which lead to desperate uprisings that generally fail in their immediate objectives but which create turmoil among the people and a weakening of authority.

These four causes for weakness have not yet appeared anywhere in the Soviet Universal State, so far as we know. In fact, available evidence points in the opposite direction. Soviet Russia has won every military and diplomatic enterprise up to the New German Treaty. The test of a Russian failure would be the ratification of the treaty by France and West Germany.

In the internal affairs of Soviet Russia, the death of Stalin produced no cataclysm; in fact, the movement from an absolute, autocratic dictatorship to "collective leadership" passed with only one hitch, the intrigue of Beria which was put down with swift and effective brutality which did not affect the people one way or the other. The era of luxury which brought decay to the Roman Empire and to the courts that succeeded Louis XIV in France has not yet appeared in Soviet Russia.

No one can guarantee that there will not be a revolution in some area of the Soviet Universal State. But can anyone guarantee that one will take place, and that if it does take place, it will not be put down as ruthlessly as Stalin managed the 1937 and 1938 purge or as Malenkov handled the Beria incident?

The error in judgment as to the possibility of an internal revolution is only important if the revolution does not take place. For then, any conclusions based on its imminence can be very costly, as costly as the conquest of China by Marxism during the diversionary Berlin Airlift.

It is not at all impossible that Soviet Russia has planted the seeds of a fictitious prospective revolution as a method of softening the Western attitude toward the Russian "peace" campaign. The diversionary Berlin Airlift shold have been a lesson to us because while it was the center of intense attention, Soviet Russia completed the conquest of China and amalgamated China into the Soviet Universal State of which by its Constitution, whatever language is employed, China is now a part.

If those in authority in the United States, the President, the Secretary of State, the evaluators of data in the CIA, accept the prospect of revolution as immediately probable, an adoption of a receptive attitude will be based upon the assumption that the Lord is on the side of the righteous. That can turn out to be a pious hope that may not exist in reality. That would make their policy as false as General Marshall's was with regard to China when he was misadvised as to the nature of Chinese Communism, or as false as the British policy toward Red China has been which was based on advice from Hongkong traders that swift recognition would result in a split between Russia and China.

John Foster Dulles's counsel of caution does make sense in these troubled times, but the inaction of American policy increases confusion.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

LONG TERM ILLNESS

"Chronic disease is the greatest medical problem facing physicians and the community today. More than two out of every three deaths are caused by chronic illness. In the hospital system which represents eight billion dollars of capital outlay, three of every four beds are occupied by the chronically ill, including patients with tuberculosis and mental disease."

What is chronic illness? It has been defined as an impairment in health that requires an extended period of medical supervision, either in hospital or other institution or at home, and prevents the individual from pursuing his normal activities.

The most important of the chronic diseases are: heart disease, arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), high blood pressure, nervous and mental diseases, arthritis, diseases of the kidney, tuberculosis, cancer, diabetes and asthma.

Many have the idea that chronic or long term illness is hopeless and it is true that some cases extend over a period of years. But chronic diseases are not hopeless as we have only to keep in mind the discovery of insulin by Drs. Banting and Best, which controls diabetes, and the use of liver and liver extract by Drs. Minot and Murphy for pernicious anemia. Both these diseases were always fatal before these discoveries.

Another mistaken idea is that chronic disease and old age are the same thing. We should remember that more than 75 per cent of all chronic disease occur in the productive years of life, between ages 15 and 64. Arteriosclerosis, for example, occurs in the young as well as in the old and research going on at present on this disease is very hopeful that successful treatment may be reached in the not too distant future.

How many are afflicted with these chronic illnesses? It has been estimated that there are a million known diabetics in the United States and another million who have the disease but don't know it. Five million have heart disease; four and a half million have high blood pressure; nearly a million have kidney disease. In 1948 200,000 people died from cancer.

"The tides of the ocean reach full ebb in orderly procession, without man's intervention. Not so the tides of human disease. Chronic illness will recede only as a result of intervention. To stem that tide and to reverse its deadly trend are tasks facing us today."

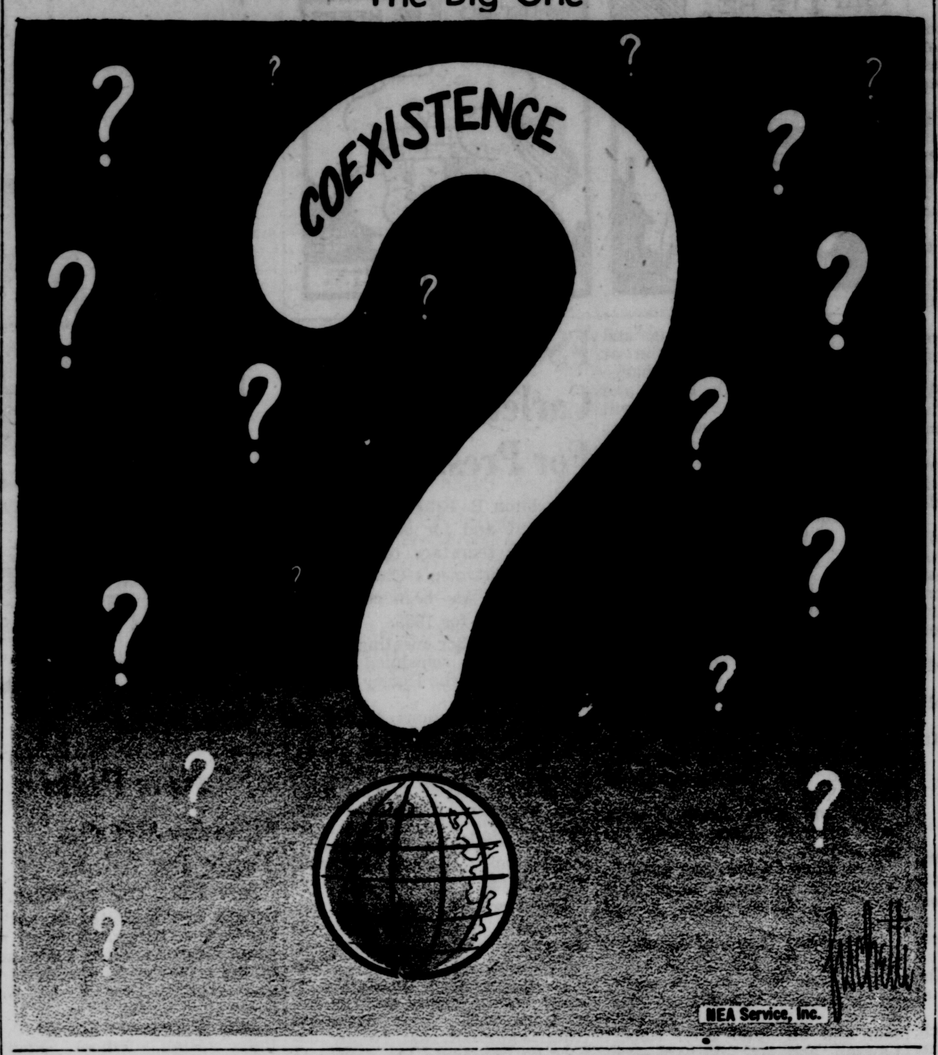

Acknowledgments to Dr. Martin Cherkasky, Director of the Montefiore Hospital, New York city.

The Big One

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The Eisenhower administration is now looking for a good Democrat—yes, that's right, a Democrat—to complete the five-member board of directors for the Export-Import Bank. When this vacancy is filled, the administration will have closed a circle of reorganizing and then re-reorganizing its $5 billion international lending agency to put it back in the shape it was two years ago, when the Republicans took over.

This experience offers an interesting example of what happens all too frequently when administrations change in Washington and the new team starts moving the beds around just for the sake of making the place look different.

Ex-Im bank, as it's known for short, was originally run by a five-man bipartisan board of directors. The Eisenhower administration decided this was unnecessary and put a single managing director in charge. The man selected for this job was retired Maj.-Gen. Glen E. Edgerton.

He was a soldier buddy of the President's, an engineer officer with a brilliant record, but with no experience whatever in the field of international finance. He naturally had to depend on some of the old hands to show him what it was all about.

TWO OF THE former directors, Republic Lynn U. Stambaugh and Democrat Hawthorne Arey, were retained as deputy and assistant to General Edgerton. They are now being promoted back to their old jobs as directors in the re-organization. General Edgerton will be president and board member.

Republican Vance Brand, Urbana, Ohio, banker who headed a businessman's advisory committee of more than 100 that recommended the re-organization, has just been sworn in as a fourth director, leaving the one vacancy still to be filled by a Democrat. Ex-Im bank will then be back in business at it was, only bigger and better.

In the early days of the new administration, however, the intent was to whittle it down and cut out the business of throwing millions around the foreign loans. One of the toughest internal fights of the administration was on whether to shore up tottering Brazil with a $300 million loan. The State Department, which favored the loan, finally got it through.

TWO THINGS HAPPENED SUBSEQUENTLY to convince the administration that the foreign-loan program might not be such a bad thing—particularly for Latin America.

The first was the South American tour of Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother. He came back recommending substantial increases in public loans for Latin-American development.

The second was a South American mission headed by Sen. Homer Capehart (D.-Ind.), chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee. Other members were Senators John W. Bricker (R.-Ohio) and Allen Frear (D.-Del.). They came back and to the surprise of an increase of Ex-Im loans.

Senator Capehart then took the lead in putting through legislation to increase Ex-Im bank lending authority from $4.5 billion to $5 billion and to restore its five-man board of directors.

IN THE PAST MONTH, the bank has shown new signs of life. It has announced a $100 million credit to an American Smelting and Refining subsidiary for development of Peruvian copper. And it has inaugurated a new type "line of credit" loan to U. S. exporters to help them finance foreign sales of capital equipment.

First of these loans is a $4 million credit to Oliver Corp. of Chicago for farm equipment sales. The second is to Combustion Engineering of New York for steam boilers. Applications from other companies are under study and may be announced soon.

This stepped-up activity for Ex-Im bank is really about the only tangible economic encouragement which the U. S. has to offer Latin America at the Rio conference which convened Nov. 22.

The administration's new plan for an International Finance Corp. under the "World Bank"—announced as something big to take to Rio—will require congressional authorization and an appropriation of $35 million. They may be some time in coming. So this is largely an empty promise.

Emphasis on Religion Urged at Yuletide

Saugerties, Dec. 3—A definite program is underway to return the emphasis of religion to the Christmas season, especially in the selection of Christmas cards.

The details of the campaign were made known by the Rev. George P. Werner, president of the Saugerties Ministerial Association and pastor of the Saugerties Methodist Church.

He said that the members of all congregations will be urged to keep religion foremost during the Yuletide season and to choose cards and decorations representative of the true meaning of Christmas.

In conjunction with this program he said that the Ministerial Association was distributing calendars which have been donated by the Saugerties Savings Bank accenting the Go to Church theme.

The association has received 100 calendars for distribution and many of the local merchants in the business section have received them also.

The large calendars are imprinted with a replica of a painting by Andrew Loomis featuring a family group. At the top of each calendar is printed, Go to Church Next Sunday.

Below the picture is a quotation from Proverbs: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it. A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and a loving favour rather than silver and gold." The calendar also has a list of all the churches in Saugerties.

Everybody likes to see an expert fall on his nose once in a while, so today's hand should spread a little sunshine. It caused a swing of more than 2000 points in a recent team match, thus proving that a little luck is sometimes more powerful than a lot of skill.

Both teams got to a quite reasonable contract of seven spades. The skillful declarer went down, but the lucky declarer made the grand slam.

First, let's see how the expert played the hand. He won the first trick with the king of hearts and drew two rounds of trumps with the ace and king. Next, he crashed the top diamonds and ruffed a diamond with the nine of spades. West overruffed with the ten of spades, and that was that.

What was so expert about this line of play? South wanted to make thirteen tricks without guessing which opponent had the queen of clubs. The nine of spades would be a safe ruff if the diamonds were 4-3 or if East (instead of West) happened to be short of diamonds, or if the player with short diamonds had only two trumps instead of three.

The odds were far better than 2 to 1 that South could ruff safely with the nine of spades, whereas the odds may be only about even on guessing which opponent has the queen of clubs.

South would be practically home if he got by with the nine of spades. He would lead a heart to dummy's queen, ruff the last diamond with the queen of spades, and enter dummy with the king of clubs to draw the last trump with the jack of spades.

Now South could take the ace of clubs and discard dummy's last club on the ace of hearts. Dummy would win the thirteenth trick with the last trump.

South might still run into trouble if the player with the last trump managed to ruff the queen of hearts or the king of clubs.

The lucky declarer won the first trick likewise with the king of hearts and drew three rounds of trumps. He next cashed the ace and jack of hearts, discarding a diamond from dummy. As it happened, although this could not have been foreseen, East discarded on the third round of hearts.

Declarer next cashed the top diamonds and ruffed a diamond. By this time it was clear that West could hold only two clubs, and South therefore decided to play East for the queen of clubs. This play worked, and South therefore made his slam.

OUTGROWN ROADS

Fifty years ago a crystal gazer, well versed in the American's enjoyment of comfort and aware as well of the American's native practicality, would have looked at the current 1904 automobile and at the condition of the nation's roads and would have felt secure in the prognostication that by 1954 the roads of the United States would be far in advance, in design and construction, of the intricate gas buggy.

Perhaps it is symptomatic of this nation's love for tinkering, of its fascination for machinery, of its extraordinary ingenuity and cleverness that there has resulted the production of cars far more powerful and swift than the roads on which they are driven can bear. Cars built for the crowded highways, mountain passes, country lanes, city streets and milling turnpikes can easily attain 100 m.p.h. None of these roads was built for that kind of speed. Fast acceleration and power shifting have enabled our current cars to move from an idling neutral to a quick start once the red light changes. Pedestrians are not built for that kind of speed. Braking power, which is greatly improved, can not yet allow the speeding automobile to stop without skidding. But a skidding car rarely avoids an accident.

Americans have produced a complicated and a formidable machine in the current automobile. The production of such power was accomplished by a few men. Yet this power has been released into the hands of anyone with money enough to purchase it. The business of seeing to it that this powerful and, to all too many, mysterious and confusing machinery is rationally controlled is the business of everyone who crosses a street or drives a car.

Legislation and community activity designed for thorough driver training should be encouraged. The building and the improvement of roads that can accommodate these cars without endangering pedestrians or other drivers should be given support in the interest of safety for pedestrian and car owner alike.

COOPERATIVE AID

Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen is on the right tack when he says that the time has come for the free nations of Europe to help the United States build up the free nations of Asia.

After World War II we gave a great deal of help to Europe, then badly needed. Now many of those countries have recovered. The best way they could express their gratitude for the aid given them in their time of need would be to help in turn the part of the world which is still in need of assistance.

This would be desirable for several reasons. Despite our resources, Asia needs more than we can give. By sharing the burden European nations would be relieving us. By making the aid to Asia a cooperative affair by all free nations it would be more valuable in building up the prestige of democracy in that part of the world.

Many European nations are still not sufficiently recovered to grant any large scale aid to Asia. But if each country gives according to its means the burden will be lighter for all and the dividends on the investment, for that is what it will be, will be greater. The building up of free Asia is as essential to the security of Europe as it is to the United States. It is right that those who will benefit should pay some share of the cost.

USEFUL PROPAGANDIST

A Negro churchman has proved, perhaps, to his own surprise, that he could be a useful propagandist for American Ideals. The Rev. Edgar A. Love, Methodist Bishop of Baltimore, has just returned from two months in British Malaya and Borneo. There natives were greatly astonished to find that a Negro could hold such a high position in this country. Communist agents had been telling them that in the United States Negroes were all slaves or near-slaves, with no legal rights.

Perhaps it would be well to send abroad more representatives of supposedly oppressed groups, to refute Communist propaganda by their presence.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE INTERNAL REVOLUTION

One of the arguments in favor of a "go-soft" attitude toward Soviet Russia is that an internal revolution is about to take place at any moment. Although no evidence is generally available on the subject, those who believe that such a revolution will take place base their conclusions on statements made by refugees and escapees who have been interviewed by American officials and by various associations which devote themselves to such activities.

The assumption is that the numerous peoples of the Soviet Universal State seek freedom and liberty on the Western model, a condition of life with which most of them have no familiarity. The vast freedoms which are so precious to us have never existed in Russia, Czarist or Bolshevik. They are unknown to a very large part of the human race and are not believed to be possible or reasonable by many.

In a huge empire the size of the Soviet Universal State, it is always possible that internal disturbances will develop, particularly among the nations on the periphery. Such disturbances are usually the result of one of several causes, to four of which I call attention:

1. Failure in war;
2. Dissent and internecine strife among the rulers;
3. Increasing and excessive luxury on the top levels leading to moral decay and disrespect for authority among the people;
4. Natural disasters, including famines, which lead to desperate uprisings that generally fail in their immediate objectives but which create turmoil among the people and a weakening of authority.

These four causes for weakness have not yet appeared anywhere in the Soviet Universal State, so far as we know. In fact, available evidence points in the opposite direction. Soviet Russia has won every military and diplomatic enterprise up to the New German Treaty. The test of a Russian failure would be the ratification of the treaty by France and West Germany.

In the internal affairs of Soviet Russia, the death of Stalin produced no cataclysm; in fact, the movement from an absolute, autocratic dictatorship to "collective leadership" passed with only one hitch, the intrigue of Beria which was put down with swift and effective brutality which did not affect the people one way or the other. The era of luxury which brought decay to the Roman Empire and to the courts that succeeded Louis XIV in France has not yet appeared in Soviet Russia.

No one can guarantee that there will not be a revolution in some area of the Soviet Universal State. But can anyone guarantee that one will take place, and that if it does take place, it will not be put down as ruthlessly as Stalin managed the 1937 and 1938 purge or as Malenkov handled the Beria incident?

The error in judgment as to the possibility of an internal revolution is only important if the revolution does not take place. For then, any conclusions based on its imminence can be very costly, as costly as the conquest of China by Marxism during the diversionary Berlin Airlift.

It is not at all impossible that Soviet Russia has planted the seeds of a fictitious prospective revolution as a method of softening the Western attitude toward the Russian "peace" campaign. The diversionary Berlin Airlift shold have been a lesson to us because while it was the center of intense attention, Soviet Russia completed the conquest of China and amalgamated China into the Soviet Universal State of which by its Constitution, whatever language is employed, China is now a part.

If those in authority in the United States, the President, the Secretary of State, the evaluators of data in the CIA, accept the prospect of revolution as immediately probable, an adoption of a receptive attitude will be based upon the assumption that the Lord is on the side of the righteous. That can turn out to be a pious hope that may not exist in reality. That would make their policy as false as General Marshall's was with regard to China when he was misadvised as to the nature of Chinese Communism, or as false as the British policy toward Red China has been which was based on advice from Hongkong traders that swift recognition would result in a split between Russia and China.

John Foster Dulles's counsel of caution does make sense in these troubled times, but the inaction of American policy increases confusion.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

LONG TERM ILLNESS

"Chronic disease is the greatest medical problem facing physicians and the community today. More than two out of every three deaths are caused by chronic illness. In the hospital system which represents eight billion dollars of capital outlay, three of every four beds are occupied by the chronically ill, including patients with tuberculosis and mental disease."

What is chronic illness? It has been defined as an impairment in health that requires an extended period of medical supervision, either in hospital or other institution or at home, and prevents the individual from pursuing his normal activities.

The most important of the chronic diseases are: heart disease, arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), high blood pressure, nervous and mental diseases, arthritis, diseases of the kidney, tuberculosis, cancer, diabetes and asthma.

Many have the idea that chronic or long term illness is hopeless and it is true that some cases extend over a period of years. But chronic diseases are not hopeless as we have only to keep in mind the discovery of insulin by Drs. Banting and Best, which controls diabetes, and the use of liver and liver extract by Drs. Minot and Murphy for pernicious anemia. Both these diseases were always fatal before these discoveries.

Another mistaken idea is that chronic disease and old age are the same thing. We should remember that more than 75 per cent of all chronic disease occur in the productive years of life, between ages 15 and 64. Arteriosclerosis, for example, occurs in the young as well as in the old and research going on at present on this disease is very hopeful that successful treatment may be reached in the not too distant future.

How many are afflicted with these chronic illnesses? It has been estimated that there are a million known diabetics in the United States and another million who have the disease but don't know it. Five million have heart disease; four and a half million have high blood pressure; nearly a million have kidney disease. In 1948 200,000 people died from cancer.

"The tides of the ocean reach full ebb in orderly procession, without man's intervention. Not so the tides of human disease. Chronic illness will recede only as a result of intervention. To stem that tide and to reverse its deadly trend are tasks facing us today."

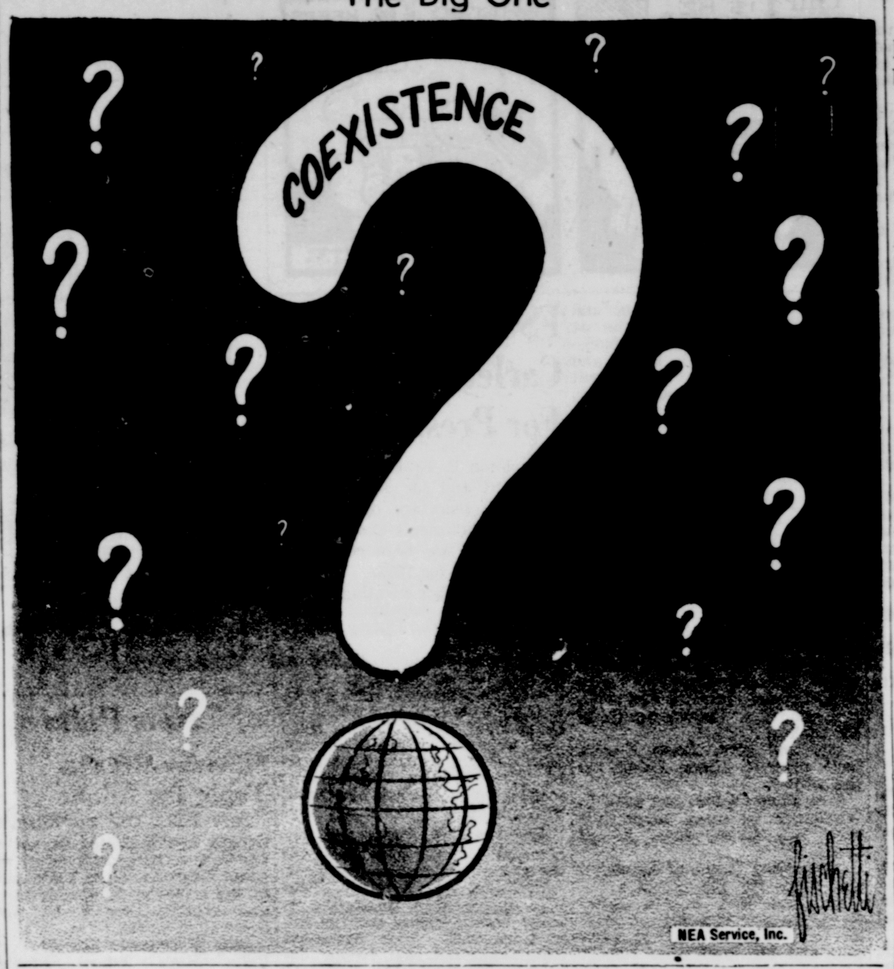

Acknowledgments to Dr. Martin Cherkasky, Director of the Montefiore Hospital, New York city.

The Big One

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The Eisenhower administration is now looking for a good Democrat—yes, that's right, a Democrat—to complete the five-member board of directors for the Export-Import Bank. When this vacancy is filled, the administration will have closed a circle of reorganizing and then re-reorganizing its $5 billion international lending agency to put it back in the shape it was two years ago, when the Republicans took over.

This experience offers an interesting example of what happens all too frequently when administrations change in Washington and the new team starts moving the beds around just for the sake of making the place look different.

Ex-Im bank, as it's known for short, was originally run by a five-man bipartisan board of directors. The Eisenhower administration decided this was unnecessary and put a single managing director in charge. The man selected for this job was retired Maj.-Gen. Glen E. Edgerton.

He was a soldier buddy of the President's, an engineer officer with a brilliant record, but with no experience whatever in the field of international finance. He naturally had to depend on some of the old hands to show him what it was all about.

TWO OF THE former directors, Republic Lynn U. Stambaugh and Democrat Hawthorne Arey, were retained as deputy and assistant to General Edgerton. They are now being promoted back to their old jobs as directors in the re-organization. General Edgerton will be president and board member.

Republican Vance Brand, Urbana, Ohio, banker who headed a businessman's advisory committee of more than 100 that recommended the re-organization, has just been sworn in as a fourth director, leaving the one vacancy still to be filled by a Democrat. Ex-Im bank will then be back in business at it was, only bigger and better.

In the early days of the new administration, however, the intent was to whittle it down and cut out the business of throwing millions around the foreign loans. One of the toughest internal fights of the administration was on whether to shore up tottering Brazil with a $300 million loan. The State Department, which favored the loan, finally got it through.

TWO THINGS HAPPENED SUBSEQUENTLY to convince the administration that the foreign-loan program might not be such a bad thing—particularly for Latin America.

The first was the South American tour of Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother. He came back recommending substantial increases in public loans for Latin-American development.

The second was a South American mission headed by Sen. Homer Capehart (D.-Ind.), chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee. Other members were Senators John W. Bricker (R.-Ohio) and Allen Frear (D.-Del.). They came back and to the surprise of an increase of Ex-Im loans.

Senator Capehart then took the lead in putting through legislation to increase Ex-Im bank lending authority from $4.5 billion to $5 billion and to restore its five-man board of directors.

IN THE PAST MONTH, the bank has shown new signs of life. It has announced a $100 million credit to an American Smelting and Refining subsidiary for development of Peruvian copper. And it has inaugurated a new type "line of credit" loan to U. S. exporters to help them finance foreign sales of capital equipment.

First of these loans is a $4 million credit to Oliver Corp. of Chicago for farm equipment sales. The second is to Combustion Engineering of New York for steam boilers. Applications from other companies are under study and may be announced soon.

This stepped-up activity for Ex-Im bank is really about the only tangible economic encouragement which the U. S. has to offer Latin America at the Rio conference which convened Nov. 22.

The administration's new plan for an International Finance Corp. under the "World Bank"—announced as something big to take to Rio—will require congressional authorization and an appropriation of $35 million. They may be some time in coming. So this is largely an empty promise.

The nine of spades would be a safe ruff if the diamonds were 4-3 or if East (instead of West) happened to be short of diamonds, or if the player with short diamonds had only two trumps instead of three.

The odds were far better than 2 to 1 that South could ruff safely with the nine of spades, whereas the odds may be only about even on guessing which opponent has the queen of clubs.

South would be practically home if he got by with the nine of spades. He would lead a heart to dummy's queen, ruff the last diamond with the queen of spades, and enter dummy with the king of clubs to draw the last trump with the jack of spades.

Now South could take the ace of clubs and discard dummy's last club on the ace of hearts. Dummy would win the thirteenth trick with the last trump.

South might still run into trouble if the player with the last trump managed to ruff the queen of hearts or the king of clubs.

The lucky declarer won the first trick likewise with the king of hearts and drew three rounds of trumps. He next cashed the ace and jack of hearts, discarding a diamond from dummy. As it happened, although this could not have been foreseen, East discarded on the third round of hearts.

Declarer next cashed the top diamonds and ruffed a diamond. By this time it was clear that West could hold only two clubs, and South therefore decided to play East for the queen of clubs. This play worked, and South therefore made his slam.

OUTGROWN ROADS

Fifty years ago a crystal gazer, well versed in the American's enjoyment of comfort and aware as well of the American's native practicality, would have looked at the current 1904 automobile and at the condition of the nation's roads and would have felt secure in the prognostication that by 1954 the roads of the United States would be far in advance, in design and construction, of the intricate gas buggy.

Perhaps it is symptomatic of this nation's love for tinkering, of its fascination for machinery, of its extraordinary ingenuity and cleverness that there has resulted the production of cars far more powerful and swift than the roads on which they are driven can bear. Cars built for the crowded highways, mountain passes, country lanes, city streets and milling turnpikes can easily attain 100 m.p.h. None of these roads was built for that kind of speed. Fast acceleration and power shifting have enabled our current cars to move from an idling neutral to a quick start once the red light changes. Pedestrians are not built for that kind of speed. Braking power, which is greatly improved, can not yet allow the speeding automobile to stop without skidding. But a skidding car rarely avoids an accident.

Americans have produced a complicated and a formidable machine in the current automobile. The production of such power was accomplished by a few men. Yet this power has been released into the hands of anyone with money enough to purchase it. The business of seeing to it that this powerful and, to all too many, mysterious and confusing machinery is rationally controlled is the business of everyone who crosses a street or drives a car.

Legislation and community activity designed for thorough driver training should be encouraged. The building and the improvement of roads that can accommodate these cars without endangering pedestrians or other drivers should be given support in the interest of safety for pedestrian and car owner alike.

COOPERATIVE AID

Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen is on the right tack when he says that the time has come for the free nations of Europe to help the United States build up the free nations of Asia.

After World War II we gave a great deal of help to Europe, then badly needed. Now many of those countries have recovered. The best way they could express their gratitude for the aid given them in their time of need would be to help in turn the part of the world which is still in need of assistance.

This would be desirable for several reasons. Despite our resources Asia needs more than we can give. By sharing the burden European nations would be relieving us. By making the aid to Asia a cooperative affair by all free nations it would be more valuable in building up the prestige of democracy in that part of the world.

Many European nations are still not sufficiently recovered to grant any large scale aid to Asia. But if each country gives according to its means the burden will be lighter for all and the dividends on the investment, for that is what it will be, will be greater. The building up of free Asia is as essential to the security of Europe as it is to the United States. It is right that those who will benefit should pay some share of the cost.

USEFUL PROPAGANDIST

A Negro churchman has proved, perhaps, to his own surprise, that he could be a useful propagandist for American Ideals. The Rev. Edgar A. Love, Methodist Bishop of Baltimore, has just returned from two months in British Malaya and Borneo. There natives were greatly astonished to find that a Negro could hold such a high position in this country. Communist agents had been telling them that in the United States Negroes were all slaves or near-slaves, with no legal rights.

Perhaps it would be well to send abroad more representatives of supposedly oppressed groups, to refute Communist propaganda by their presence.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE INTERNAL REVOLUTION

One of the arguments in favor of a "go-soft" attitude toward Soviet Russia is that an internal revolution is about to take place at any moment. Although no evidence is generally available on the subject, those who believe that such a revolution will take place base their conclusions on statements made by refugees and escapees who have been interviewed by American officials and by various associations which devote themselves to such activities.

The assumption is that the numerous peoples of the Soviet Universal State seek freedom and liberty on the Western model, a condition of life with which most of them have no familiarity. The vast freedoms which are so precious to us have never existed in Russia, Czarist or Bolshevik. They are unknown to a very large part of the human race and are not believed to be possible or reasonable by many.

In a huge empire the size of the Soviet Universal State, it is always possible that internal disturbances will develop, particularly among the nations on the periphery. Such disturbances are usually the result of one of several causes, to four of which I call attention:

1. Failure in war;
2. Dissent and internecine strife among the rulers;
3. Increasing and excessive luxury on the top levels leading to moral decay and disrespect for authority among the people;
4. Natural disasters, including famines, which lead to desperate uprisings that generally fail in their immediate objectives but which create turmoil among the people and a weakening of authority.

These four causes for weakness have not yet appeared anywhere in the Soviet Universal State, so far as we know. In fact, available evidence points in the opposite direction. Soviet Russia has won every military and diplomatic enterprise up to the New German Treaty. The test of a Russian failure would be the ratification of the treaty by France and West Germany.

In the internal affairs of Soviet Russia, the death of Stalin produced no cataclysm; in fact, the movement from an absolute, autocratic dictatorship to "collective leadership" passed with only one hitch, the intrigue of Beria which was put down with swift and effective brutality which did not affect the people one way or the other. The era of luxury which brought decay to the Roman Empire and to the courts that succeeded Louis XIV in France has not yet appeared in Soviet Russia.

No one can guarantee that there will not be a revolution in some area of the Soviet Universal State. But can anyone guarantee that one will take place, and that if it does take place, it will not be put down as ruthlessly as Stalin managed the 1937 and 1938 purge or as Malenkov handled the Beria incident?

The error in judgment as to the possibility of an internal revolution is only important if the revolution does not take place. For then, any conclusions based on its imminence can be very costly, as costly as the conquest of China by Marxism during the diversionary Berlin Airlift.

It is not at all impossible that Soviet Russia has planted the seeds of a fictitious prospective revolution as a method of softening the Western attitude toward the Russian "peace" campaign. The diversionary Berlin Airlift shold have been a lesson to us because while it was the center of intense attention, Soviet Russia completed the conquest of China and amalgamated China into the Soviet Universal State of which by its Constitution, whatever language is employed, China is now a part.

If those in authority in the United States, the President, the Secretary of State, the evaluators of data in the CIA, accept the prospect of revolution as immediately probable, an adoption of a receptive attitude will be based upon the assumption that the Lord is on the side of the righteous. That can turn out to be a pious hope that may not exist in reality. That would make their policy as false as General Marshall's was with regard to China when he was misadvised as to the nature of Chinese Communism, or as false as the British policy toward Red China has been which was based on advice from Hongkong traders that swift recognition would result in a split between Russia and China.

John Foster Dulles's counsel of caution does make sense in these troubled times, but the inaction of American policy increases confusion.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

LONG TERM ILLNESS

"Chronic disease is the greatest medical problem facing physicians and the community today. More than two out of every three deaths are caused by chronic illness. In the hospital system which represents eight billion dollars of capital outlay, three of every four beds are occupied by the chronically ill, including patients with tuberculosis and mental disease."

What is chronic illness? It has been defined as an impairment in health that requires an extended period of medical supervision, either in hospital or other institution or at home, and prevents the individual from pursuing his normal activities.

The most important of the chronic diseases are: heart disease, arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), high blood pressure, nervous and mental diseases, arthritis, diseases of the kidney, tuberculosis, cancer, diabetes and asthma.

Many have the idea that chronic or long term illness is hopeless and it is true that some cases extend over a period of years. But chronic diseases are not hopeless as we have only to keep in mind the discovery of insulin by Drs. Banting and Best, which controls diabetes, and the use of liver and liver extract by Drs. Minot and Murphy for pernicious anemia. Both these diseases were always fatal before these discoveries.

Another mistaken idea is that chronic disease and old age are the same thing. We should remember that more than 75 per cent of all chronic disease occur in the productive years of life, between ages 15 and 64. Arteriosclerosis, for example, occurs in the young as well as in the old and research going on at present on this disease is very hopeful that successful treatment may be reached in the not too distant future.

How many are afflicted with these chronic illnesses? It has been estimated that there are a million known diabetics in the United States and another million who have the disease but don't know it. Five million have heart disease; four and a half million have high blood pressure; nearly a million have kidney disease. In 1948 200,000 people died from cancer.

"The tides of the ocean reach full ebb in orderly procession, without man's intervention. Not so the tides of human disease. Chronic illness will recede only as a result of intervention. To stem that tide and to reverse its deadly trend are tasks facing us today."

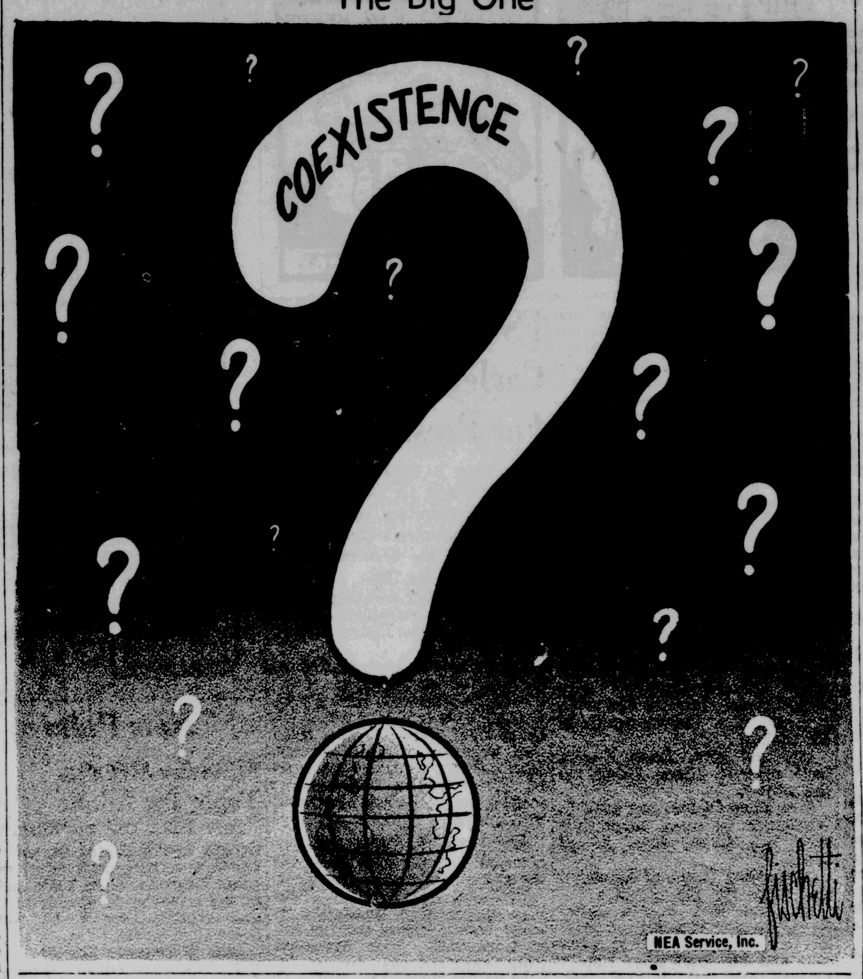

Acknowledgments to Dr. Martin Cherkasky, Director of the Montefiore Hospital, New York city.

The Big One

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The Eisenhower administration is now looking for a good Democrat—yes, that's right, a Democrat—to complete the five-member board of directors for the Export-Import Bank. When this vacancy is filled, the administration will have closed a circle of reorganizing and then re-reorganizing its $5 billion international lending agency to put it back in the shape it was two years ago, when the Republicans took over.

This experience offers an interesting example of what happens all too frequently when administrations change in Washington and the new team starts moving the beds around just for the sake of making the place look different.

Ex-Im bank, as it's known for short, was originally run by a five-man bipartisan board of directors. The Eisenhower administration decided this was unnecessary and put a single managing director in charge. The man selected for this job was retired Maj.-Gen. Glen E. Edgerton.

He was a soldier buddy of the President's, an engineer officer with a brilliant record, but with no experience whatever in the field of international finance. He naturally had to depend on some of the old hands to show him what it was all about.

TWO OF THE former directors, Republic Lynn U. Stambaugh and Democrat Hawthorne Arey, were retained as deputy and assistant to General Edgerton. They are now being promoted back to their old jobs as directors in the re-organization. General Edgerton will be president and board member.

Republican Vance Brand, Urbana, Ohio, banker who headed a businessman's advisory committee of more than 100 that recommended the re-organization, has just been sworn in as a fourth director, leaving the one vacancy still to be filled by a Democrat. Ex-Im bank will then be back in business at it was, only bigger and better.

In the early days of the new administration, however, the intent was to whittle it down and cut out the business of throwing millions around the foreign loans. One of the toughest internal fights of the administration was on whether to shore up tottering Brazil with a $300 million loan. The State Department, which favored the loan, finally got it through.

TWO THINGS HAPPENED SUBSEQUENTLY to convince the administration that the foreign-loan program might not be such a bad thing—particularly for Latin America.

The first was the South American tour of Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother. He came back recommending substantial increases in public loans for Latin-American development.

The second was a South American mission headed by Sen. Homer Capehart (D.-Ind.), chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee. Other members were Senators John W. Bricker (R.-Ohio) and Allen Frear (D.-Del.). They came back and to the surprise of an increase of Ex-Im loans.

Senator Capehart then took the lead in putting through legislation to increase Ex-Im bank lending authority from $4.5 billion to $5 billion and to restore its five-man board of directors.

IN THE PAST MONTH, the bank has shown new signs of life. It has announced a $100 million credit to an American Smelting and Refining subsidiary for development of Peruvian copper. And it has inaugurated a new type "line of credit" loan to U. S. exporters to help them finance foreign sales of capital equipment.

First of these loans is a $4 million credit to Oliver Corp. of Chicago for farm equipment sales. The second is to Combustion Engineering of New York for steam boilers. Applications from other companies are under study and may be announced soon.

This stepped-up activity for Ex-Im bank is really about the only tangible economic encouragement which the U. S. has to offer Latin America at the Rio conference which convened Nov. 22.

The administration's new plan for an International Finance Corp. under the "World Bank"—announced as something big to take to Rio—will require congressional authorization and an appropriation of $35 million. They may be some time in coming. So this is largely an empty promise.

Emphasis on Religion Urged at Yuletide

Saugerties, Dec. 3—A definite program is underway to return the emphasis of religion to the Christmas season, especially in the selection of Christmas cards.

The details of the campaign were made known by the Rev. George P. Werner, president of the Saugerties Ministerial Association and pastor of the Saugerties Methodist Church.

He said that the members of all congregations will be urged to keep religion foremost during the Yuletide season and to choose cards and decorations representative of the true meaning of Christmas.

In conjunction with this program he said that the Ministerial Association was distributing calendars which have been donated by the Saugerties Savings Bank accenting the Go to Church theme.

The association has received 100 calendars for distribution and many of the local merchants in the business section have received them also.

The large calendars are imprinted with a replica of a painting by Andrew Loomis featuring a family group. At the top of each calendar is printed, Go to Church Next Sunday.

Below the picture is a quotation from Proverbs: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it. A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and a loving favour rather than silver and gold." The calendar also has a list of all the churches in Saugerties.

Everybody likes to see an expert fall on his nose once in a while, so today's hand should spread a little sunshine. It caused a swing of more than 2000 points in a recent team match, thus proving that a little luck is sometimes more powerful than a lot of skill.

Both teams got to a quite reasonable contract of seven spades. The skillful declarer went down, but the lucky declarer made the grand slam.

First, let's see how the expert played the hand. He won the first trick with the king of hearts and drew two rounds of trumps with the ace and king. Next, he crashed the top diamonds and ruffed a diamond with the nine of spades. West overruffed with the ten of spades, and that was that.

What was so expert about this line of play? South wanted to make thirteen tricks without guessing which opponent had the queen of clubs. The nine of spades would be a safe ruff if the diamonds were 4-3 or if East (instead of West) happened to be short of diamonds, or if the player with short diamonds had only two trumps instead of three.

The odds were far better than 2 to 1 that South could ruff safely with the nine of spades, whereas the odds may be only about even on guessing which opponent has the queen of clubs.

South would be practically home if he got by with the nine of spades. He would lead a heart to dummy's queen, ruff the last diamond with the queen of spades, and enter dummy with the king of clubs to draw the last trump with the jack of spades.

Now South could take the ace of clubs and discard dummy's last club on the ace of hearts. Dummy would win the thirteenth trick with the last trump.

South might still run into trouble if the player with the last trump managed to ruff the queen of hearts or the king of clubs.

The lucky declarer won the first trick likewise with the king of hearts and drew three rounds of trumps. He next cashed the ace and jack of hearts, discarding a diamond from dummy. As it happened, although this could not have been foreseen, East discarded on the third round of hearts.

Declarer next cashed the top diamonds and ruffed a diamond. By this time it was clear that West could hold only two clubs, and South therefore decided to play East for the queen of clubs. This play worked, and South therefore made his slam.

Mentally Ill Porter Kills Cop and Woman

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—A mentally disturbed porter, being taken to a hospital for observation last night, shot and killed a policeman and a woman ambulance attendant before another officer shot him dead.

The wild shooting melee took place on a stairway of a Ridgewood, Queens, apartment house and cost the lives of Edward Rahner, 38, Patrolman Joseph Norden, 38, and Hannah Callahan, 50, a Kings County Hospital attendant.

The officers and Miss Callahan went to the apartment after Rahner's wife, Helen, 35, called police and said her husband was acting strangely. Earlier in the evening, Mrs. Rahner said, Rahner attacked her brother-in-law, Jack Goodwin, but finally was restrained and calmed.

Rahner was being led down the stairs from his second-floor flat by Norden and Patrolman Joseph Fallon. Miss Callahan had just entered the first floor hallway.

Suddenly Rahner grabbed Norden's service revolver from its holster and shot the officer through the chest. Another bullet struck Miss Callahan. Fallon whipped out his gun and killed Rahner.

Savings Bonds Make Good Yule Gifts

The continuing upswing in U. S. Savings Bond sales is expected also to boost the number of bonds purchased as gifts during this coming Christmas season, William F. Edelmuth, chairman of the Ulster County Savings Bonds Committee, said today.

Banks throughout Ulster county last year reported a healthy demand for Savings Bonds as Christmas gifts. With sales showing steady gains over last year, indications point to an even greater demand for bonds as gifts this year, Edelmuth declared.

This year every bond purchased at banks for use as a gift will be enclosed in a newly-designed jacket in colors of red, white, blue and gold. On it will be imprinted the slogan, A Gift Today for a Bright Tomorrow. The free jackets will provide an effective holder for savings bonds during their lifetime.

"Christmas time is an especially good time to help your friends, your loved ones, or yourself to a brighter tomorrow through regular purchase of savings bonds," Edelmuth said.

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—The long and previously unblemished careers of two Brooklyn fire battalion chiefs came to a blighted end yesterday.

Because of their previous "long honorable service," Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr., permitted both to retire, but under enforced conditions whereby their pensions will consist of half pay instead of full pay.

They are Daniel M. Regan, 62, a member of the department for 30 years ,and Joseph A. Massaro, 59, who joined the force 27 years ago.

Both appeared deeply moved as Cavanagh lectured them for having reflected "discredit on the entire department."

President's Forecast

Yet our national output exceeds the war peak of 1944. In 10 years, if we act wisely, even this tremendous output will increase by nearly 50 per cent."

Gurtler, 48, with the firm as chief engineer for 12 years charges his boss called him a Communist in front of other workers.

Christmas Giving

You can give a great deal more with up to 30% less cost when you buy at Butler's low overhead wayside furniture store. We know we're "out of the way" and it's easier to shop in the high rent stores because they are conveniently located, but if you want your Christmas money to go much farther, drive the few pleasurable miles out Route 28-A to where the overhead is only a fraction of what stores in the business areas cost.

Ask your friends—many of them have been in our showrooms — they will tell you of the better quality furniture we're carrying here at guaranteed savings to you. We also have a liberal budget or lay-a-way plan for your convenience.

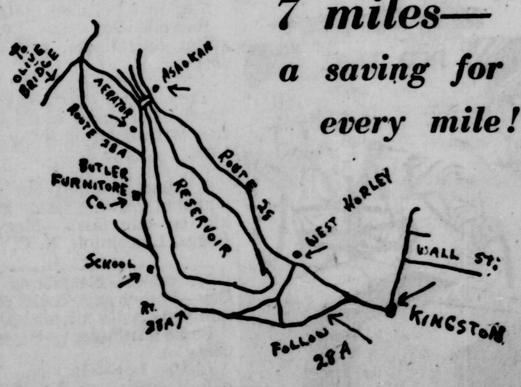

We appreciate the business our many customer-friends have sent us. They have made us the largest wayside furniture store in Ulster Co. because they felt confident their friends, too, would get a square deal at Butler's. We're not afraid of comparison in values as some are. All we ask is before you buy, shop at Butler's, compare what we offer you with other stores, then you, too, will say Buy at Butler's for better furniture at Better Prices.

Christmas Giving

You can give a great deal more with up to 30% less cost when you buy at Butler's low overhead wayside furniture store. We know we're "out of the way" and it's easier to shop in the high rent stores because they are conveniently located, but if you want your Christmas money to go much farther, drive the few pleasurable miles out Route 28-A to where the overhead is only a fraction of what stores in the business areas cost.

Ask your friends—many of them have been in our showrooms — they will tell you of the better quality furniture we're carrying here at guaranteed savings to you. We also have a liberal budget or lay-a-way plan for your convenience.

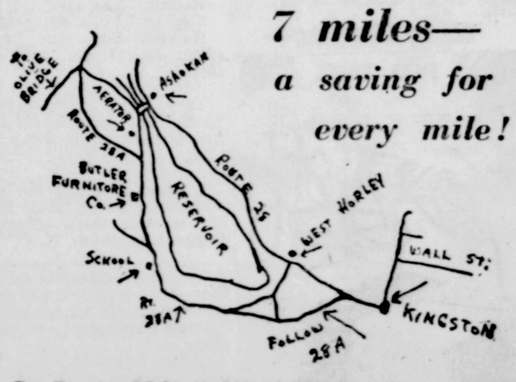

We appreciate the business our many customer-friends have sent us. They have made us the largest wayside furniture store in Ulster Co. because they felt confident their friends, too, would get a square deal at Butler's. We're not afraid of comparison in values as some are. All we ask is before you buy, shop at Butler's, compare what we offer you with other stores, then you, too, will say Buy at Butler's for better furniture at Better Prices.

Frank, paving the way for the suit to go to trial, said:

"Quite apart from the legal bar to employment in public offices, defense facilities and sensitive industries, Communists are taboo in other areas of employment * * * in most if not all of the learned professions."

The judge also said that current public opinion, the geographic area and the "audience" are among "elements which determine whether a defamation has peen perpetrated."

Would-Be Holdup Terminates in Death

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Two policemen shot and killed a would-be holdup man last night in a mid-Manhattan candy store. The man's weapon turned out to be a toy gun.

Detective James J. Hennessy and Patrolman Mitchell Sang were in a rear storeroom of the candy shop. The store had been robbed two weeks ago.

They were hidden behind a swinging door when William Samuel Kleinman, 24, walked in, announced a holdup to the manager, Mrs. Ruth Colley, and added: "Who else you got in here?"

The reply was a fusillade of shots from the officers' guns.

Kleinman went down with 10 bullets in him.

Christmas Giving

You can give a great deal more with up to 30% less cost when you buy at Butler's low overhead wayside furniture store. We know we're "out of the way" and it's easier to shop in the high rent stores because they are conveniently located, but if you want your Christmas money to go much farther, drive the few pleasurable miles out Route 28-A to where the overhead is only a fraction of what stores in the business areas cost.

Ask your friends—many of them have been in our showrooms — they will tell you of the better quality furniture we're carrying here at guaranteed savings to you. We also have a liberal budget or lay-a-way plan for your convenience.

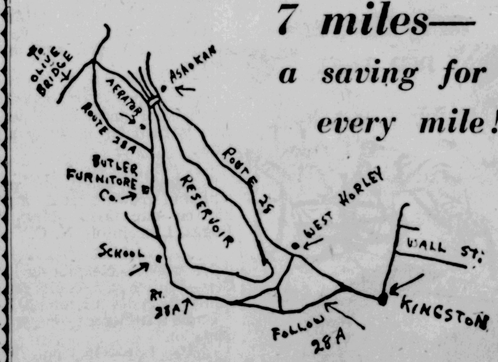

We appreciate the business our many customer-friends have sent us. They have made us the largest wayside furniture store in Ulster Co. because they felt confident their friends, too, would get a square deal at Butler's. We're not afraid of comparison in values as some are. All we ask is before you buy, shop at Butler's, compare what we offer you with other stores, then you, too, will say Buy at Butler's for better furniture at Better Prices.

Open Daily, 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Open Sundays — Noon to 7 P. M.

RED TAPE

Long ago in England, before the days of modern filing systems, government documents were stored in packages tied with red tape. Tape was used instead of string to avoid injury to the documents. If a document was not immediately available, it was said to be tied up in red tape. Even today, if government action is slowed down for any reason, we blame it on "red tape."

Center Szymanski Helped Complete A Forward Pass

Notre Dame, Ind. (NEA)—Dick Szymanski probably is the only center in several seasons who completed a forward pass.

A short chuck by Ralph Gugliemi over center was batted earthward by a Pennsylvania lineman. Szymanski of Notre Dame grabbed the ball before it hit the ground, and it went into the records as a completed pass good for a yard.

Senior Szymanski's career as a college player unfortunately ended in this contest when he suffered a ruptured spleen.

Nichols, Wright On Mat Program

The two supporting matches on the wrestling card at the municipal auditorium, Wednesday, Dec. 8, have been announced by promotor Ted Bayly, who said advance sale of tickets is encouraging for the Argentina Rocca - Yukon Eric feature.

Jack Nichols, Springfield, Mass., a favorite here in the past, is matched with Lee Henning, Toronto.

Bearcat Wright, colored mat star from Seattle, Wash., is paired with Harry Lewis, New York.

Bayly said he signed Rocca and Eric as "a super attraction to preserve interest in wrestling among the fans of this area." He said he intends to run spot shows throughout the winter, whenever top name wrestlers are available as opponents.

Woodstock V's Trounce Milton Motors, 84-65

Villagers Gain First Victory

Woodstock's rejuvenated Varsity cracked the sound barrier last night to overpower the crack Youngstown Motors of Milton, 84-65, for the first victory of the village season.

Coach Walter S. Van Wagenen, who suffered painfully through a horrendous shellacking at the hands of Lou's Machine Shop last week, was able to smile this morning.

He pointed out that Ken Harder played the game of his life, pouring in 16 points and handling himself beautifully under both boards.

LAFAYETTE "Champ" Holstein was a floor whizz and tallied 18 points. Big Bill Kleine unloaded 16 points and played a strong game under the defensive boards. Herbie Waterous contributed 14 points to the Woodstock win.

It was touch and go for three periods with Milton leading 57-55 but the Vs lowered the boom with a 29-8 rout in the strech period.

Ed Crosby flipped 23 points for Milton, with Harry Passante getting 17 and Vince Mannese 13.

Win Sidelines Ryff For Three Months

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Undefeated Frankie Ryff had his 16th victory today, Rookie of the Year honors all but clinched, and an involuntary holiday of about three months ahead of him.

It all happened as a result of his sparkling but split 10-round decision over Cuba's Orlando Zulueta in Madison Square Garden last night.

The 22-year-old Bronx phenom, a 13-5 favorite over his experienced rival, required 20 stitches of Dr. Vincent Nardiello's fine needlework to sew up two gashes over his right eye and one over his left orb. Dr. Nardiello estimated that the wounds would sideline the gritty lightweight prospect for at least three months.

Marlboro Prospects Good Despite Loss of Varsity

Despite heavy losses by graduation last June, basketball Coach Ed McGrath of Marlborough Central is not pessimistic about his team's chances of success in the Ulster Council Athletic League.

The McGrath cagers made their debut against Washingtonville last week, winning by 51-44. Their coach seemed fairly pleased with the performance.

Ten of the 14 players from last year's team are missing. They include the entire first string five of Harry Lyons, George Quinn, Joe Ronkese, Fred Pavata and Ted Presler, plus reserves Joe McGowan, Corky Mullins, Al Pagano, Nick Magliato and Frank Lofaro.

RETURNING ARE reserves George Brooks, Charley Mandia and George Mackey. Earl Mullins, another '54 reserve, is out of action with a broken leg.

New players include Carston Conn, Dick Collins, Angie Fabbiano, Frank Santora, all Jayvee graduates; and Joe Sarra, a transfer from New York.

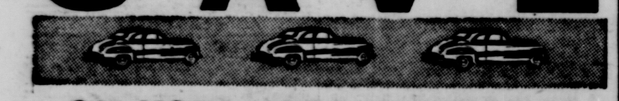

Last year the Marlborough club posted a 9-1 record while winning the UCAL championship for the second straight season. The overall Marlborough record was 11 won, six lost.

This year's starting team will average six feet in height, McGrath said. None of the youths are especially tall but the all-round height is excellent.

Center Szymanski Helped Complete A Forward Pass

Notre Dame, Ind. (NEA)—Dick Szymanski probably is the only center in several seasons who completed a forward pass.

A short chuck by Ralph Gugliemi over center was batted earthward by a Pennsylvania lineman. Szymanski of Notre Dame grabbed the ball before it hit the ground, and it went into the records as a completed pass good for a yard.

Senior Szymanski's career as a college player unfortunately ended in this contest when he suffered a ruptured spleen.

Woodstock V's Trounce Milton Motors, 84-65

Villagers Gain First Victory

Woodstock's rejuvenated Varsity cracked the sound barrier last night to overpower the crack Youngstown Motors of Milton, 84-65, for the first victory of the village season.

Coach Walter S. Van Wagenen, who suffered painfully through a horrendous shellacking at the hands of Lou's Machine Shop last week, was able to smile this morning.

He pointed out that Ken Harder played the game of his life, pouring in 16 points and handling himself beautifully under both boards.

LAFAYETTE "Champ" Holstein was a floor whizz and tallied 18 points. Big Bill Kleine unloaded 16 points and played a strong game under the defensive boards. Herbie Waterous contributed 14 points to the Woodstock win.

It was touch and go for three periods with Milton leading 57-55 but the Vs lowered the boom with a 29-8 rout in the strech period.

Win Sidelines Ryff For Three Months

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Undefeated Frankie Ryff had his 16th victory today, Rookie of the Year honors all but clinched, and an involuntary holiday of about three months ahead of him.

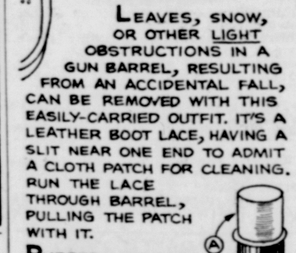

It all happened as a result of his sparkling but split 10-round decision over Cuba's Orlando Zulueta in Madison Square Garden last night.

The 22-year-old Bronx phenom, a 13-5 favorite over his experienced rival, required 20 stitches of Dr. Vincent Nardiello's fine needlework to sew up two gashes over his right eye and one over his left orb. Dr. Nardiello estimated that the wounds would sideline the gritty lightweight prospect for at least three months.

Marlboro Prospects Good Despite Loss of Varsity

Despite heavy losses by graduation last June, basketball Coach Ed McGrath of Marlborough Central is not pessimistic about his team's chances of success in the Ulster Council Athletic League.

The McGrath cagers made their debut against Washingtonville last week, winning by 51-44. Their coach seemed fairly pleased with the performance.

Ten of the 14 players from last year's team are missing. They include the entire first string five of Harry Lyons, George Quinn, Joe Ronkese, Fred Pavata and Ted Presler, plus reserves Joe McGowan, Corky Mullins, Al Pagano, Nick Magliato and Frank Lofaro.

RETURNING ARE reserves George Brooks, Charley Mandia and George Mackey. Earl Mullins, another '54 reserve, is out of action with a broken leg.

New players include Carston Conn, Dick Collins, Angie Fabbiano, Frank Santora, all Jayvee graduates; and Joe Sarra, a transfer from New York.

Last year the Marlborough club posted a 9-1 record while winning the UCAL championship for the second straight season. The overall Marlborough record was 11 won, six lost.

This year's starting team will average six feet in height, McGrath said. None of the youths are especially tall but the all-round height is excellent.

Center Szymanski Helped Complete A Forward Pass

Notre Dame, Ind. (NEA)—Dick Szymanski probably is the only center in several seasons who completed a forward pass.

A short chuck by Ralph Gugliemi over center was batted earthward by a Pennsylvania lineman. Szymanski of Notre Dame grabbed the ball before it hit the ground, and it went into the records as a completed pass good for a yard.

Senior Szymanski's career as a college player unfortunately ended in this contest when he suffered a ruptured spleen.

Nichols, Wright On Mat Program

The two supporting matches on the wrestling card at the municipal auditorium, Wednesday, Dec. 8, have been announced by promotor Ted Bayly, who said advance sale of tickets is encouraging for the Argentina Rocca - Yukon Eric feature.

Jack Nichols, Springfield, Mass., a favorite here in the past, is matched with Lee Henning, Toronto.

Bearcat Wright, colored mat star from Seattle, Wash., is paired with Harry Lewis, New York.

Bayly said he signed Rocca and Eric as "a super attraction to preserve interest in wrestling among the fans of this area." He said he intends to run spot shows throughout the winter, whenever top name wrestlers are available as opponents.

Woodstock V's Trounce Milton Motors, 84-65

Villagers Gain First Victory

Woodstock's rejuvenated Varsity cracked the sound barrier last night to overpower the crack Youngstown Motors of Milton, 84-65, for the first victory of the village season.

Coach Walter S. Van Wagenen, who suffered painfully through a horrendous shellacking at the hands of Lou's Machine Shop last week, was able to smile this morning.

He pointed out that Ken Harder played the game of his life, pouring in 16 points and handling himself beautifully under both boards.

LAFAYETTE "Champ" Holstein was a floor whizz and tallied 18 points. Big Bill Kleine unloaded 16 points and played a strong game under the defensive boards. Herbie Waterous contributed 14 points to the Woodstock win.

It was touch and go for three periods with Milton leading 57-55 but the Vs lowered the boom with a 29-8 rout in the strech period.

Ed Crosby flipped 23 points for Milton, with Harry Passante getting 17 and Vince Mannese 13.

Rosewall Still Stalks Seixas

Melbourne, Dec. 4 (AP) — The Ken Rosewall jinx that has pursued Viv Seixas longer than the U. S. tennis champion cares to remember is still at work.

For the eighth time the veteran Philadelphia Davis Cup star bowed to the youthful Australian today when Rosewall won the Victorian championship in four sets, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Win Sidelines Ryff For Three Months

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Undefeated Frankie Ryff had his 16th victory today, Rookie of the Year honors all but clinched, and an involuntary holiday of about three months ahead of him.

It all happened as a result of his sparkling but split 10-round decision over Cuba's Orlando Zulueta in Madison Square Garden last night.

The 22-year-old Bronx phenom, a 13-5 favorite over his experienced rival, required 20 stitches of Dr. Vincent Nardiello's fine needlework to sew up two gashes over his right eye and one over his left orb. Dr. Nardiello estimated that the wounds would sideline the gritty lightweight prospect for at least three months.

Lincoln Park Inn blanked Ruby Inn, 10-0, to move within three games of the league leading Rookies Tavern in the County Shuffleboard League.

The leaders scored an 8-2 win over Village Rest. Reid's Hotel of Rosendale triumphed over Hilltop Rest, 8-2. The Lincoln and Rookies victories were scored on the road.

Smythe-Miggins, Hart-Houghtaling, Westfall-Nichols and Beesmer-Fisher scored double victories for the Lincolns.

IN THE ROOKIES-Village Rest, Schuster-Poltzyk, Johnson-Keoppen won twice for the Rookies and Williams-Walker scored for the losers. Reid-Henright scored a double victory for Reid's Hotel, one being a near shutout by a 27-1 margin. Quinn-Fredericks also posted doubles.

In Tuesday's matches, Village Rest visits Rookies Tavern; Jake's Grill goes to Hilltop Rest; and Ruby Inn travels to Reid's Hotel.

Marlboro Prospects Good Despite Loss of Varsity

Despite heavy losses by graduation last June, basketball Coach Ed McGrath of Marlborough Central is not pessimistic about his team's chances of success in the Ulster Council Athletic League.

The McGrath cagers made their debut against Washingtonville last week, winning by 51-44. Their coach seemed fairly pleased with the performance.

Ten of the 14 players from last year's team are missing. They include the entire first string five of Harry Lyons, George Quinn, Joe Ronkese, Fred Pavata and Ted Presler, plus reserves Joe McGowan, Corky Mullins, Al Pagano, Nick Magliato and Frank Lofaro.

RETURNING ARE reserves George Brooks, Charley Mandia and George Mackey. Earl Mullins, another '54 reserve, is out of action with a broken leg.

New players include Carston Conn, Dick Collins, Angie Fabbiano, Frank Santora, all Jayvee graduates; and Joe Sarra, a transfer from New York.

Last year the Marlborough club posted a 9-1 record while winning the UCAL championship for the second straight season. The overall Marlborough record was 11 won, six lost.

This year's starting team will average six feet in height, McGrath said. None of the youths are especially tall but the all-round height is excellent.

Car Damage Reported

James Gilpatric of 214 Lucas avenue reported to police headquarters that about 3:30 p. m. he was driving north on Broadway near Pine Grove avenue in a line of traffic when the line stopped suddenly and he ran into a car ahead of him. He said he was concerned with the condition of his child who had been thrown from the seat to the floor and failed to make a thorough check of his car. After the operator of the other vehicle, a sedan, name of owner unknown, drove off, Gilpatric said he discovered that the front end of his car had been considerably damaged. He said his child was apparently not injured.

Bids for Meteorite

Sylacauga, Ala., Dec. 4 (AP)—At least 75 bids for a meteorite which struck an Alabama housewife have been received by the woman's husband, with the mails still bringing additional offers. Huel Love, attorney for Hewlett Hodges, said that apparently the most satisfactory offer so far received came from the Evansville Public Museum, Evansville, Ind. He declined to say what the museum offered, but said that Hodges was assured an amount in excess of $5,000. The Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., has offered to appraise the meteorite for Hodges without cost.

Cyanide Suicide

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 4 (AP)—Authorities labeled the death of Benjamin Klatsky, 49, New York photographic salesman, as suicide by cyanide poisoning last night. Deputy Coroner Aaron Smith said Kaltsky whose body was found yesterday in the back seat of his auto near downtown Lexington, apparently had mixed the poison with coffee. Smith said an autopsy was performed at the request of Mrs. Lillian Klatsky, who said a 13-state search for her husband had been conducted the past week after he had written "at least 30 suicide notes."

Artist Found Dead

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 4 (AP)—A New York artist, object of a 13-state search last week, was found dead yesterday in the back seat of his auto, parked near the downtown section of Lexington. Police said there was no evidence that Joseph Klatsky, 49, White Plains, N. Y., had died a violent death. But Deputy Coroner Aaron Smith said he did not think the death was natural. Smith said Mrs. Lillian Klatsky reported in a telephone conversation that her husband had written "at least 30 suicide notes" before he left home.

Reports Dog Bite

Thomas Wolff, 10 Center street, reported to police headquarters yesterday he had been bitten by a brown and white Spitz dog in front of 51 Liberty street about 7:10 p. m. He said the dog belonged to Evelyn Strauss of 60 Franklin street. Wolff was treated by a private physician.

He said he was concerned with the condition of his child who had been thrown from the seat to the floor and failed to make a thorough check of his car. After the operator of the other vehicle, a sedan, name of owner unknown, drove off, Gilpatric said he discovered that the front end of his car had been considerably damaged. He said his child was apparently not injured.

Bids for Meteorite

Sylacauga, Ala., Dec. 4 (AP)—At least 75 bids for a meteorite which struck an Alabama housewife have been received by the woman's husband, with the mails still bringing additional offers. Huel Love, attorney for Hewlett Hodges, said that apparently the most satisfactory offer so far received came from the Evansville Public Museum, Evansville, Ind. He declined to say what the museum offered, but said that Hodges was assured an amount in excess of $5,000. The Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., has offered to appraise the meteorite for Hodges without cost.

Cyanide Suicide

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 4 (AP)—Authorities labeled the death of Benjamin Klatsky, 49, New York photographic salesman, as suicide by cyanide poisoning last night. Deputy Coroner Aaron Smith said Kaltsky whose body was found yesterday in the back seat of his auto near downtown Lexington, apparently had mixed the poison with coffee. Smith said an autopsy was performed at the request of Mrs. Lillian Klatsky, who said a 13-state search for her husband had been conducted the past week after he had written "at least 30 suicide notes."

Artist Found Dead

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 4 (AP)—A New York artist, object of a 13-state search last week, was found dead yesterday in the back seat of his auto, parked near the downtown section of Lexington. Police said there was no evidence that Joseph Klatsky, 49, White Plains, N. Y., had died a violent death. But Deputy Coroner Aaron Smith said he did not think the death was natural. Smith said Mrs. Lillian Klatsky reported in a telephone conversation that her husband had written "at least 30 suicide notes" before he left home.

Smith said an autopsy was performed at the request of Mrs. Lillian Klatsky, who said a 13-state search for her husband had been conducted the past week after he had written "at least 30 suicide notes."

Artist Found Dead

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 4 (AP)—A New York artist, object of a 13-state search last week, was found dead yesterday in the back seat of his auto, parked near the downtown section of Lexington. Police said there was no evidence that Joseph Klatsky, 49, White Plains, N. Y., had died a violent death. But Deputy Coroner Aaron Smith said he did not think the death was natural. Smith said Mrs. Lillian Klatsky reported in a telephone conversation that her husband had written "at least 30 suicide notes" before he left home.

Cpl. Ray Dunn of the state police said an automobile owned by Bruff Olin and driven by Mrs. Ann Olin, 58, of Woodstock, was entering Route 212 from a side road when it was in collision with an automobile owned and driven by Katherine Walsh Burgevin, 46, also of Woodstock, which was eastbound on Route 212. One of the vehicles damaged a fence on the former McEvoy property, Cpl. Dunn said. Both automobiles had to be towed away, he said. No arrest was made.

No injuries were reported.

DecisionReserved On Alimony and Visitation Rights

An application for temporary alimony and counsel fees and for a right to custody of two children, or at least authority to visit the children, was heard in special term of Supreme Court Friday before Justice Bookstein, presiding justice, in an action brought by Clare Foster against Jesse E. Foster. The parties had been residents of Monticello for many years. Foster is presently serving in the army and is a captain stationed at Stewart Air Force Base.

Clare Foster is represented by Goldstein and Goldstein and Jesse E. Foster by Morris M. Oppenheim of Monticello.

THE APPLICATION of Mrs. Foster for alimony and $1,000 counsel fees and for custody of the children was opposed by Capt. Foster.

During the argument on the motion, plaintiff's attorney charged that while Capt. Foster was serving in Japan a Japanese girl had been a part of the home and that Mrs. Foster, who had accompanied her husband to Japan, became so distraught over this incident that she ultimately had to be ordered home by the army authorities. Later she became very much worse and on her own volition was committed to an institution for treatment and care and is now home under a probationary release. Counsel charged that this "cruel and inhuman treatment" was responsible for her condition.

IN DEFENSE of that charge counsel for Capt. Foster told the court that the charge was false and but an imagination of the plaintiff. He further told the court that the defendant had been living in Montgomery where the children were and that Mrs. Foster had seen the children and visited them there. He charged that "tendencies" on the part of the mother made it unwise for her to have custody of the children.

In reply counsel for Mrs. Foster charged that she did not know where the children were, but that she had been taken there by car over an unfamiliar route, did not know the address and could not supply the address but possibly might lead the way to the place she had visited.

Oppenheim told the court that the children had been kept in a home by the plaintiff when they were in her custody and that Capt. Foster found them "undernourished, uncared for and dirty" and had taken them into his custody when he returned to the United States from foreign service.

Justice Foster reserved decision on the application of Mrs. Foster.

Democrat Definite Victor in Oregon

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—A Republican-headed Senate group has turned down a challenge to the Oregon election which gave Democrats the margin they need to organize the Senate next month.

The action late yesterday appeared to erase any lingering question about the November balloting which gave Democrat Richard L. Neuberger a slim edge over Republican Guy Cordon, defeated after 10 years in the Senate.

Cordon refused to join the demand for a recount filed yesterday with the Senate Elections Subcommittee by Jess J. Gard, GOP national committeeman from Oregon. For that reason, the subcommittee tossed out Gard's petition.

Rejection of the challenge left the impending Senate lineup for the 84th Congress at 48 Democrats, Independent Sen. Wayne Morse—also of Oregon—and 47 Republicans. Morse has announced he will vote with the Democrats on organizing the new Senate.

Recounts are still in progress in Ohio and New Jersey, but the apparent Republican victors in those states are holding on.

Two Cars Collide

Automobiles driven by Festus Yeaple, 72, of High Falls and John William O'dell, 20, of Ellenville, were in collision on Route 209 at Stone Ridge about 11:40 p. m. Friday, state police said. No personal injuries were reported. Troopers said the front end of O'dell's vehicle struck the right rear of Yeaple's car as Yeaple was entering Route 209 from a parking lot.

Driver Fined $50 For 2nd Offense

Edward Pietrowski, 62, of Linderman avenue, was fined $50 in city court this morning on a charge of driving without an operator's license.

This was Pietrowski's second arrest on the same charge. The first arrest occurred about six months ago.

He was arrested at 8:58 p. m. yesterday by Officer William F. Snyder following a collision between Pietrowski's car and a tractor-trailer U. S. Mail truck on Thomas street near New street. The tractor-trailed, owned by Boyd Sepes of Troy, was operated by William Patterson, Hinsdale and Savoy streets.

A CHARGE of leaving the scene of an accident was dismissed in city court yesterday afternoon by Judge Raymond J. Mino against Rufus Widget, 41, of Winnikee avenue, Poughkeepsie. Widget was arrested November 3 charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

The car he drove, police said, struck safety zone markers at Broadway and Albany avenue. He was trailed to Stephan street and Foxhall avenue where the arrest was made.

AFTER THE complainant's case was heard, Judge Mino dismissed the charge of leaving the scene. The second charge will be heard at a time to be set by the court. Attorney Charles Gaffney appeared for the defendant and John E. Gotelli for the district attorney.

The case of Margaret Anne Robbins, 18, of 20 Cedar street, who was arrected by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons at 2:30 p. m. yesterday charged with second degree forgery, was adjourned to December 7. The defendant asked that the court assign an attorney and Special Judge Harry Gold appointed William Brinnier. The defendant was remanded to the Ulster county jail with bail set at $500.

The case of Lillian Jones, 48, of 14 Ann street, who was arrested by James Jones of the same address on a third degree assault charge early last Sunday, was adjourned until Monday.

Sheppard Story

a conflict between testimony "Dr. Steve" gave at the inquest, and later at the trial. In his first story, the witness said he talked with his brother when he found him, stretched on the floor, the morning of the murder. In the trial, however, he said there was no exchange of questions and answers with "Dr. Sam."

PARRINO ASKED which was the correct report. The witness replied:

"At the time of the inquest, last July, my memory would have been more fresh. If I said I talked with Dr. Sam, that was true."

Parrino ripped into his testimony that he thought "Dr. Sam" had concussion of the brain, a possible spinal injury, and was "in shock."

The attorney asked if medication had been administered and the answer was "no." Using "Dr. Steve's" own words, he asked if it was not dangerous to move a man who was in that condition and get him out, half-walking, to an automobile.

"Dr. Steve" testified that, with help, he "dragged" his brother to the car and rushed him to a hospital. Parrino asked why the accused man had not been put on a stretcher if his injuries were considered so serious.

The older brother, however, declined to budge from his assertion that he did the right thing in losing no time before getting "Dr. Sam" to the hospital.

Harriman Names

governor-elect's press secretary, said last night.

"Harriman has no comment. He hasn't made any announcement and certainly won't make one here. It's strictly a speculative story."

THE DEMOCRATIC source, an upstate county chairman who declined to be named, said Carey's name appeared high on a long list of "possibles" advanced for the commissioner's post after Harriman's election, Nov. 2.

On the same day Harriman won at the polls, Carey lost a bid to wrest the 36th Congressional District seat from Republican Rep. John Taber of Auburn.

Carey, a Democrat, served as assistant to U. S. Agriculture Secretary Brannan in former President Trumans cabinet.

Farm organization sources, who asked not to be quoted by name, said they understood that Carey had the support of one of the large cooperatives and one large milk distributor.

OTHERS WHO farm leaders consider still in contention for the job are former Assemblyman Sharon Mauhs of Cobleskill and James G. Lyons of Monticello. However, the Democratic chairman declared:

"Lyons definitely is out. For one reason, Monticello is too close to New York city—Harriman needs a real upstater."

Mauhs is counsel for the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn. A spokesman for one of the four largest dairy cooperatives said he understood Harriman did not want as commissioner a man "too closely associated with any of the big farm groups."

Have Fifth Child

Hollywood, Dec. 4 (AP) — The Dennis Days have another child —their fifth. Birth of 7-pound 10-ounce Eileen Maria McNulty Thursday night at St. Vincent's Hospital was disclosed yesterday. Her singer father, whose real name is Eugene Dennis McNulty, and his wife Peggy have another daughter and three sons.

Democrats . . .

THE NORTH-SOUTH harmony achieved on this point soon was shattered, however by the controversy over whether the committee should proceed as scheduled to elect a chairman by roll call vote in an afternoon session.

Rayburn's call for a postponement enlisted immediate support from committee veterans such as Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh the Pennsylvania national committeeman, and Col. Jacob M. Arvey, Illinois member.

But Mitchell leaped to the defense of the committee's right to fight out the chairmanship issue in public on roll call votes in which Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, the parliamentarian, held that the winner must get 53 of the 105 ballots expected to be cast.

The lineup of Stevenson and Mitchell on one side, with Rayburn, Lawrence and Arvey on the other, represented a deep seated division between the Stevenson - come - latelies" on the committee and the veterans who have been accustomed to dictating the choice of a chairman.

RAYBURN HUDDLED in a midnight hotel room session with Arvey, Lawrence, Carmine G. DeSapio, New York national committeeman, Tracy R. McCracken, Wyoming committeeman, Calvin Rawlings, Utah committeeman, and Howard McGrath, former attorney general, without any evident agreement among them.

McGrath, who is supporting DiSalle, was reported to have counseled an immediate vote, a move DiSalle said he would welcome. Rawlings called a meeting of members from 11 western states this morning to sound out on candidates and a postponement.

Individual committee members who would comment made it plain that they want to pick the chairman and not have the choice dictated to them.

Liberty Man Is

morning rendezvous because she resisted his advances.

Dist. Otty. Benjamin Newberg said Terry told him he decided "to silence her forever."

Authorities said Mrs. Jersey had not been raped.

Police gave this account:

Terry and Mrs. Jersey first met late Tuesday night in a Liberty tavern, Hunter's Inn.

THE COUPLE AGREED to meet later, at 4 a. m., and drove separately to the appointed spot, on Route 52.

There, Newberg said, Terry got into Mrs. Jersey's car and she resisted his advances.

Terry is accused of throwing the woman out of her car, putting her in his own, and driving off onto a side road.

Newberg said Terry admitted throwing the woman into a ditch and then beating her on the head with a lug wrench.

TERRY WAS HELD for grand jury action after arraignment before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Fisk.

Mrs. Jersey's body was discovered by Leslie Houghtaling, who lives in the neighborhood and noticed Mrs. Jersey's car parked on the road for almost two days. Searching the area, Houghtaling found the body, covered with an overcoat, on Thursday evening.

Tokyo, Dec. 4 (AP)—Japan's opposition parties agreed today to vote Tuesday on a motion of non-confidence in Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's government. Yoshida served notice that if the motion passes he will dissolve the Diet (parliament) and plunge the nation into new elections rather than resign.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 4 (AP)—Republican Clifford P. Case has a lead of 3,226 votes in the disputed N. J. Senate race today with a recount complete in one sixth of five challenged paper-ballot counties. Democratic Rep. Charles R. Howell has been gaining a few votes each day to lop a total of 104 votes off Case's official 3,370 margin, but Case gained four votes yesterday.

Francis Hendrickson, 34, of Kerhonkson was arrested in Kingston Friday afternoon on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Warren McDowell of the town of Gardiner on a petit larceny charge. Hendrickson, a tree surgeon, was placed under arrest as he was working on Hurley avenue when he was spotted by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Sheriff DeWitt Barley as they were returning from another assignment at Kerhonkson. He was held for a hearing before Justice McDowell on Dec. 13. Complainant was Helen Clinton, who charged that Hendrickson issued fraudulent checks to her.

Ithaca Meeting

Farm Organizations, formed in 1919. The chairman of the board is Henry Sherwood of Pine Plains, mentioned as a possibility—among several others—for the post of Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets.

Each year, representatives of the eight groups comprising the board work out recommedations for legislation that all think would help the farmer. Then they take their program to the governor.

And that's where the chance for an early showdown comes in.

The board plans to meet Thursday to continue work on its legislative program, which it hopes to lay before Harriman in Albany early in January.

TRADITIONALLY, these meetings have been pleasant affairs. When the first one with Harriman is over, both sides may come away satisfied that they will be able to get along.

Or they may immediately draw up battle lines to thrash out the isues. In any event the farm organizations should know how they will fare under Harriman.

Members of the conference board are the Farm Bureaus, Home Burea, the Grange League Federation, the Dairymen's League, the State Grange, the Horticultural Society, the Poultry Council, and the State Vegetable Gromers Assn.

Pope Is Better

was "most cordial" during the 15-minute meeting, one of several the Pontiff has arranged despite his illness. He reportedly talked yesterday with Msgr. Domenico Tardini, a close associate in the Vatican Secretariate of State, and Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini, recently appointed Archbishop of Milan, who had been mentioned as a possible successor to the Papal Throne.

Before the specialists issued their bulletin, an official Vatican spokesman said the Pontiff was suffering intermittent fevers and that his temperature was "continuously fluctuating."

WORD THAT CATHOLICS around the world prayed for his recovery reportedly greatly comforted the Pope yesterday.

Romans and tourists from many countries gathered in vast St. Peter's Square seeking the latest word on his condition. Many knelt on the cold cobblestones to pray. Police diverted wheeled traffic from the square to keep it quiet.

Embassies and legations of the more than 40 nations accredited to the Vatican maintained close contact for the latest report. Their personnel will attend a special Mass at Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major tomorrow to pray for the Pope's recovery.

Ricco a checker employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, had always thought that a man with whom he had had a fight was responsible for the shooting, Silver added, but "now he's not so sure."

Held as Fugitive

Cashin at the request of New Hampshire authorities, who stated he was wanted in that state on a non-support charge. Arrested by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Sheriff DeWitt Barley, Whitney was held at the court house here pending arrival of New Hampshire authorities.

in this case as part of an effort to find out if McCarthy was speculating with money sent him for use in fighting communism.

The special committee, consisting of Sens. Ferguson (R.-Mich.) and George (D.-Ga.), declared "in strong language . . . the use of mail covers by a Senate committee or its staff."

It was developed by the Ferguson-George Committee that the check—maintained from Oct. 24 to Nov. 16, 1952—was applied only on mail going to his home in northwest Washington, not to his Senate office. The mail of several McCarthy aides also was checked and the special committee report said it was clear none of those involved consented to the cover.

EVER ADD UP WHAT YOU COULD LOSE?
You have perhaps often added up what you are worth.
Ever add up what you could LOSE? It might perhaps be several times what you are worth.
Example: you may injure somebody and the law may take all you're worth and attach your future income for years to come.
Example: your house may burn and it may cost you twice its original price to replace it.
Sometime add up all the losses you MIGHT have and you'll see that you are under-insured at many points — against theft, fires, lawsuits, embezzlement, interruption of business, etc.
Gloomy? Well, the purpose of the insurance policies we write is to end this kind of gloomy thinking.

Cpl. Ray Dunn of the state police said an automobile owned by Bruff Olin and driven by Mrs. Ann Olin, 58, of Woodstock, was entering Route 212 from a side road when it was in collision with an automobile owned and driven by Katherine Walsh Burgevin, 46, also of Woodstock, which was eastbound on Route 212. One of the vehicles damaged a fence on the former McEvoy property, Cpl. Dunn said. Both automobiles had to be towed away, he said. No arrest was made.

They listed the cause as a furnace defect, possibly due to a building up of soot.

No injuries were reported.

DecisionReserved On Alimony and Visitation Rights

An application for temporary alimony and counsel fees and for a right to custody of two children, or at least authority to visit the children, was heard in special term of Supreme Court Friday before Justice Bookstein, presiding justice, in an action brought by Clare Foster against Jesse E. Foster. The parties had been residents of Monticello for many years. Foster is presently serving in the army and is a captain stationed at Stewart Air Force Base.

Clare Foster is represented by Goldstein and Goldstein and Jesse E. Foster by Morris M. Oppenheim of Monticello.

THE APPLICATION of Mrs. Foster for alimony and $1,000 counsel fees and for custody of the children was opposed by Capt. Foster.

During the argument on the motion, plaintiff's attorney charged that while Capt. Foster was serving in Japan a Japanese girl had been a part of the home and that Mrs. Foster, who had accompanied her husband to Japan, became so distraught over this incident that she ultimately had to be ordered home by the army authorities. Later she became very much worse and on her own volition was committed to an institution for treatment and care and is now home under a probationary release. Counsel charged that this "cruel and inhuman treatment" was responsible for her condition.

IN DEFENSE of that charge counsel for Capt. Foster told the court that the charge was false and but an imagination of the plaintiff. He further told the court that the defendant had been living in Montgomery where the children were and that Mrs. Foster had seen the children and visited them there. He charged that "tendencies" on the part of the mother made it unwise for her to have custody of the children.

In reply counsel for Mrs. Foster charged that she did not know where the children were, but that she had been taken there by car over an unfamiliar route, did not know the address and could not supply the address but possibly might lead the way to the place she had visited.

Oppenheim told the court that the children had been kept in a home by the plaintiff when they were in her custody and that Capt. Foster found them "undernourished, uncared for and dirty" and had taken them into his custody when he returned to the United States from foreign service.

Justice Foster reserved decision on the application of Mrs. Foster.

Democrat Definite Victor in Oregon

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—A Republican-headed Senate group has turned down a challenge to the Oregon election which gave Democrats the margin they need to organize the Senate next month.

The action late yesterday appeared to erase any lingering question about the November balloting which gave Democrat Richard L. Neuberger a slim edge over Republican Guy Cordon, defeated after 10 years in the Senate.

Cordon refused to join the demand for a recount filed yesterday with the Senate Elections Subcommittee by Jess J. Gard, GOP national committeeman from Oregon. For that reason, the subcommittee tossed out Gard's petition.

Rejection of the challenge left the impending Senate lineup for the 84th Congress at 48 Democrats, Independent Sen. Wayne Morse—also of Oregon—and 47 Republicans. Morse has announced he will vote with the Democrats on organizing the new Senate.

Recounts are still in progress in Ohio and New Jersey, but the apparent Republican victors in those states are holding on.

Two Cars Collide

Automobiles driven by Festus Yeaple, 72, of High Falls and John William O'dell, 20, of Ellenville, were in collision on Route 209 at Stone Ridge about 11:40 p. m. Friday, state police said. No personal injuries were reported. Troopers said the front end of O'dell's vehicle struck the right rear of Yeaple's car as Yeaple was entering Route 209 from a parking lot.

Driver Fined $50 For 2nd Offense

Edward Pietrowski, 62, of Linderman avenue, was fined $50 in city court this morning on a charge of driving without an operator's license.

This was Pietrowski's second arrest on the same charge. The first arrest occurred about six months ago.

He was arrested at 8:58 p. m. yesterday by Officer William F. Snyder following a collision between Pietrowski's car and a tractor-trailer U. S. Mail truck on Thomas street near New street. The tractor-trailed, owned by Boyd Sepes of Troy, was operated by William Patterson, Hinsdale and Savoy streets.

A CHARGE of leaving the scene of an accident was dismissed in city court yesterday afternoon by Judge Raymond J. Mino against Rufus Widget, 41, of Winnikee avenue, Poughkeepsie. Widget was arrested November 3 charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

The car he drove, police said, struck safety zone markers at Broadway and Albany avenue. He was trailed to Stephan street and Foxhall avenue where the arrest was made.

AFTER THE complainant's case was heard, Judge Mino dismissed the charge of leaving the scene. The second charge will be heard at a time to be set by the court. Attorney Charles Gaffney appeared for the defendant and John E. Gotelli for the district attorney.

The case of Margaret Anne Robbins, 18, of 20 Cedar street, who was arrected by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons at 2:30 p. m. yesterday charged with second degree forgery, was adjourned to December 7. The defendant asked that the court assign an attorney and Special Judge Harry Gold appointed William Brinnier. The defendant was remanded to the Ulster county jail with bail set at $500.

The case of Lillian Jones, 48, of 14 Ann street, who was arrested by James Jones of the same address on a third degree assault charge early last Sunday, was adjourned until Monday.

Sheppard Story

a conflict between testimony "Dr. Steve" gave at the inquest, and later at the trial. In his first story, the witness said he talked with his brother when he found him, stretched on the floor, the morning of the murder. In the trial, however, he said there was no exchange of questions and answers with "Dr. Sam."

PARRINO ASKED which was the correct report. The witness replied:

"At the time of the inquest, last July, my memory would have been more fresh. If I said I talked with Dr. Sam, that was true."

Parrino ripped into his testimony that he thought "Dr. Sam" had concussion of the brain, a possible spinal injury, and was "in shock."

The attorney asked if medication had been administered and the answer was "no." Using "Dr. Steve's" own words, he asked if it was not dangerous to move a man who was in that condition and get him out, half-walking, to an automobile.

"Dr. Steve" testified that, with help, he "dragged" his brother to the car and rushed him to a hospital. Parrino asked why the accused man had not been put on a stretcher if his injuries were considered so serious.

The older brother, however, declined to budge from his assertion that he did the right thing in losing no time before getting "Dr. Sam" to the hospital.

Harriman Names

governor-elect's press secretary, said last night.

"Harriman has no comment. He hasn't made any announcement and certainly won't make one here. It's strictly a speculative story."

THE DEMOCRATIC source, an upstate county chairman who declined to be named, said Carey's name appeared high on a long list of "possibles" advanced for the commissioner's post after Harriman's election, Nov. 2.

On the same day Harriman won at the polls, Carey lost a bid to wrest the 36th Congressional District seat from Republican Rep. John Taber of Auburn.

Carey, a Democrat, served as assistant to U. S. Agriculture Secretary Brannan in former President Trumans cabinet.

Farm organization sources, who asked not to be quoted by name, said they understood that Carey had the support of one of the large cooperatives and one large milk distributor.

OTHERS WHO farm leaders consider still in contention for the job are former Assemblyman Sharon Mauhs of Cobleskill and James G. Lyons of Monticello. However, the Democratic chairman declared:

"Lyons definitely is out. For one reason, Monticello is too close to New York city—Harriman needs a real upstater."

Mauhs is counsel for the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn. A spokesman for one of the four largest dairy cooperatives said he understood Harriman did not want as commissioner a man "too closely associated with any of the big farm groups."

Have Fifth Child

Hollywood, Dec. 4 (AP) — The Dennis Days have another child —their fifth. Birth of 7-pound 10-ounce Eileen Maria McNulty Thursday night at St. Vincent's Hospital was disclosed yesterday. Her singer father, whose real name is Eugene Dennis McNulty, and his wife Peggy have another daughter and three sons.

Democrats . . .

the 1948 election.

THE NORTH-SOUTH harmony achieved on this point soon was shattered, however by the controversy over whether the committee should proceed as scheduled to elect a chairman by roll call vote in an afternoon session.

Rayburn's call for a postponement enlisted immediate support from committee veterans such as Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh the Pennsylvania national committeeman, and Col. Jacob M. Arvey, Illinois member.

But Mitchell leaped to the defense of the committee's right to fight out the chairmanship issue in public on roll call votes in which Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, the parliamentarian, held that the winner must get 53 of the 105 ballots expected to be cast.

The lineup of Stevenson and Mitchell on one side, with Rayburn, Lawrence and Arvey on the other, represented a deep seated division between the Stevenson-come-latelies" on the committee and the veterans who have been accustomed to dictating the choice of a chairman.

RAYBURN HUDDLED in a midnight hotel room session with Arvey, Lawrence, Carmine G. DeSapio, New York national committeeman, Tracy R. McCracken, Wyoming committeeman, Calvin Rawlings, Utah committeeman, and Howard McGrath, former attorney general, without any evident agreement among them.

McGrath, who is supporting DiSalle, was reported to have counseled an immediate vote, a move DiSalle said he would welcome. Rawlings called a meeting of members from 11 western states this morning to sound out on candidates and a postponement.

Individual committee members who would comment made it plain that they want to pick the chairman and not have the choice dictated to them.

Liberty Man Is

morning rendezvous because she resisted his advances.

Dist. Otty. Benjamin Newberg said Terry told him he decided "to silence her forever."

Authorities said Mrs. Jersey had not been raped.

Police gave this account:

Terry and Mrs. Jersey first met late Tuesday night in a Liberty tavern, Hunter's Inn.

THE COUPLE AGREED to meet later, at 4 a. m., and drove separately to the appointed spot, on Route 52.

There, Newberg said, Terry got into Mrs. Jersey's car and she resisted his advances.

Terry is accused of throwing the woman out of her car, putting her in his own, and driving off onto a side road.

Newberg said Terry admitted throwing the woman into a ditch and then beating her on the head with a lug wrench.

TERRY WAS HELD for grand jury action after arraignment before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Fisk.

Mrs. Jersey's body was discovered by Leslie Houghtaling, who lives in the neighborhood and noticed Mrs. Jersey's car parked on the road for almost two days. Searching the area, Houghtaling found the body, covered with an overcoat, on Thursday evening.

Tokyo, Dec. 4 (AP)—Japan's opposition parties agreed today to vote Tuesday on a motion of non-confidence in Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's government. Yoshida served notice that if the motion passes he will dissolve the Diet (parliament) and plunge the nation into new elections rather than resign.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 4 (AP)—Republican Clifford P. Case has a lead of 3,226 votes in the disputed N. J. Senate race today with a recount complete in one sixth of five challenged paper-ballot counties. Democratic Rep. Charles R. Howell has been gaining a few votes each day to lop a total of 104 votes off Case's official 3,370 margin, but Case gained four votes yesterday.

Francis Hendrickson, 34, of Kerhonkson was arrested in Kingston Friday afternoon on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Warren McDowell of the town of Gardiner on a petit larceny charge. Hendrickson, a tree surgeon, was placed under arrest as he was working on Hurley avenue when he was spotted by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Sheriff DeWitt Barley as they were returning from another assignment at Kerhonkson. He was held for a hearing before Justice McDowell on Dec. 13. Complainant was Helen Clinton, who charged that Hendrickson issued fraudulent checks to her.

Ithaca Meeting

Farm Organizations, formed in 1919. The chairman of the board is Henry Sherwood of Pine Plains, mentioned as a possibility—among several others—for the post of Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets.

Each year, representatives of the eight groups comprising the board work out recommedations for legislation that all think would help the farmer. Then they take their program to the governor.

And that's where the chance for an early showdown comes in.

The board plans to meet Thursday to continue work on its legislative program, which it hopes to lay before Harriman in Albany early in January.

TRADITIONALLY, these meetings have been pleasant affairs. When the first one with Harriman is over, both sides may come away satisfied that they will be able to get along.

Or they may immediately draw up battle lines to thrash out the isues. In any event the farm organizations should know how they will fare under Harriman.

Members of the conference board are the Farm Bureaus, Home Burea, the Grange League Federation, the Dairymen's League, the State Grange, the Horticultural Society, the Poultry Council, and the State Vegetable Gromers Assn.

Pope Is Better

was "most cordial" during the 15-minute meeting, one of several the Pontiff has arranged despite his illness. He reportedly talked yesterday with Msgr. Domenico Tardini, a close associate in the Vatican Secretariate of State, and Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini, recently appointed Archbishop of Milan, who had been mentioned as a possible successor to the Papal Throne.

Before the specialists issued their bulletin, an official Vatican spokesman said the Pontiff was suffering intermittent fevers and that his temperature was "continuously fluctuating."

WORD THAT CATHOLICS around the world prayed for his recovery reportedly greatly comforted the Pope yesterday.

Romans and tourists from many countries gathered in vast St. Peter's Square seeking the latest word on his condition. Many knelt on the cold cobblestones to pray. Police diverted wheeled traffic from the square to keep it quiet.

Embassies and legations of the more than 40 nations accredited to the Vatican maintained close contact for the latest report. Their personnel will attend a special Mass at Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major tomorrow to pray for the Pope's recovery.

Held as Fugitive

John Whitney, 24, of Accord, was arrested Friday afternoon on a fugitive from justice warrant issued by County Judge John M. Cashin at the request of New Hampshire authorities, who stated he was wanted in that state on a non-support charge. Arrested by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Sheriff DeWitt Barley, Whitney was held at the court house here pending arrival of New Hampshire authorities.

in this case as part of an effort to find out if McCarthy was speculating with money sent him for use in fighting communism.

The special committee, consisting of Sens. Ferguson (R.-Mich.) and George (D.-Ga.), declared "in strong language . . . the use of mail covers by a Senate committee or its staff."

It was developed by the Ferguson-George Committee that the check—maintained from Oct. 24 to Nov. 16, 1952—was applied only on mail going to his home in northwest Washington, not to his Senate office. The mail of several McCarthy aides also was checked and the special committee report said it was clear none of those involved consented to the cover.

Cpl. Ray Dunn of the state police said an automobile owned by Bruff Olin and driven by Mrs. Ann Olin, 58, of Woodstock, was entering Route 212 from a side road when it was in collision with an automobile owned and driven by Katherine Walsh Burgevin, 46, also of Woodstock, which was eastbound on Route 212. One of the vehicles damaged a fence on the former McEvoy property, Cpl. Dunn said. Both automobiles had to be towed away, he said. No arrest was made.

DecisionReserved On Alimony and Visitation Rights

An application for temporary alimony and counsel fees and for a right to custody of two children, or at least authority to visit the children, was heard in special term of Supreme Court Friday before Justice Bookstein, presiding justice, in an action brought by Clare Foster against Jesse E. Foster. The parties had been residents of Monticello for many years. Foster is presently serving in the army and is a captain stationed at Stewart Air Force Base.

Clare Foster is represented by Goldstein and Goldstein and Jesse E. Foster by Morris M. Oppenheim of Monticello.

THE APPLICATION of Mrs. Foster for alimony and $1,000 counsel fees and for custody of the children was opposed by Capt. Foster.

During the argument on the motion, plaintiff's attorney charged that while Capt. Foster was serving in Japan a Japanese girl had been a part of the home and that Mrs. Foster, who had accompanied her husband to Japan, became so distraught over this incident that she ultimately had to be ordered home by the army authorities. Later she became very much worse and on her own volition was committed to an institution for treatment and care and is now home under a probationary release. Counsel charged that this "cruel and inhuman treatment" was responsible for her condition.

IN DEFENSE of that charge counsel for Capt. Foster told the court that the charge was false and but an imagination of the plaintiff. He further told the court that the defendant had been living in Montgomery where the children were and that Mrs. Foster had seen the children and visited them there. He charged that "tendencies" on the part of the mother made it unwise for her to have custody of the children.

In reply counsel for Mrs. Foster charged that she did not know where the children were, but that she had been taken there by car over an unfamiliar route, did not know the address and could not supply the address but possibly might lead the way to the place she had visited.

Oppenheim told the court that the children had been kept in a home by the plaintiff when they were in her custody and that Capt. Foster found them "undernourished, uncared for and dirty" and had taken them into his custody when he returned to the United States from foreign service.

Justice Foster reserved decision on the application of Mrs. Foster.

Democrat Definite Victor in Oregon

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—A Republican-headed Senate group has turned down a challenge to the Oregon election which gave Democrats the margin they need to organize the Senate next month.

The action late yesterday appeared to erase any lingering question about the November balloting which gave Democrat Richard L. Neuberger a slim edge over Republican Guy Cordon, defeated after 10 years in the Senate.

Cordon refused to join the demand for a recount filed yesterday with the Senate Elections Subcommittee by Jess J. Gard, GOP national committeeman from Oregon. For that reason, the subcommittee tossed out Gard's petition.

Rejection of the challenge left the impending Senate lineup for the 84th Congress at 48 Democrats, Independent Sen. Wayne Morse—also of Oregon—and 47 Republicans. Morse has announced he will vote with the Democrats on organizing the new Senate.

Recounts are still in progress in Ohio and New Jersey, but the apparent Republican victors in those states are holding on.

Two Cars Collide

Automobiles driven by Festus Yeaple, 72, of High Falls and John William O'dell, 20, of Ellenville, were in collision on Route 209 at Stone Ridge about 11:40 p. m. Friday, state police said. No personal injuries were reported. Troopers said the front end of O'dell's vehicle struck the right rear of Yeaple's car as Yeaple was entering Route 209 from a parking lot.

Driver Fined $50 For 2nd Offense

Edward Pietrowski, 62, of Linderman avenue, was fined $50 in city court this morning on a charge of driving without an operator's license.

This was Pietrowski's second arrest on the same charge. The first arrest occurred about six months ago.

He was arrested at 8:58 p. m. yesterday by Officer William F. Snyder following a collision between Pietrowski's car and a tractor-trailer U. S. Mail truck on Thomas street near New street. The tractor-trailed, owned by Boyd Sepes of Troy, was operated by William Patterson, Hinsdale and Savoy streets.

A CHARGE of leaving the scene of an accident was dismissed in city court yesterday afternoon by Judge Raymond J. Mino against Rufus Widget, 41, of Winnikee avenue, Poughkeepsie. Widget was arrested November 3 charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

The car he drove, police said, struck safety zone markers at Broadway and Albany avenue. He was trailed to Stephan street and Foxhall avenue where the arrest was made.

AFTER THE complainant's case was heard, Judge Mino dismissed the charge of leaving the scene. The second charge will be heard at a time to be set by the court. Attorney Charles Gaffney appeared for the defendant and John E. Gotelli for the district attorney.

The case of Margaret Anne Robbins, 18, of 20 Cedar street, who was arrected by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons at 2:30 p. m. yesterday charged with second degree forgery, was adjourned to December 7. The defendant asked that the court assign an attorney and Special Judge Harry Gold appointed William Brinnier. The defendant was remanded to the Ulster county jail with bail set at $500.

The case of Lillian Jones, 48, of 14 Ann street, who was arrested by James Jones of the same address on a third degree assault charge early last Sunday, was adjourned until Monday.

Sheppard Story

a conflict between testimony "Dr. Steve" gave at the inquest, and later at the trial. In his first story, the witness said he talked with his brother when he found him, stretched on the floor, the morning of the murder. In the trial, however, he said there was no exchange of questions and answers with "Dr. Sam."

PARRINO ASKED which was the correct report. The witness replied:

"At the time of the inquest, last July, my memory would have been more fresh. If I said I talked with Dr. Sam, that was true."

Parrino ripped into his testimony that he thought "Dr. Sam" had concussion of the brain, a possible spinal injury, and was "in shock."

The attorney asked if medication had been administered and the answer was "no." Using "Dr. Steve's" own words, he asked if it was not dangerous to move a man who was in that condition and get him out, half-walking, to an automobile.

"Dr. Steve" testified that, with help, he "dragged" his brother to the car and rushed him to a hospital. Parrino asked why the accused man had not been put on a stretcher if his injuries were considered so serious.

The older brother, however, declined to budge from his assertion that he did the right thing in losing no time before getting "Dr. Sam" to the hospital.

Harriman Names

governor-elect's press secretary, said last night.

"Harriman has no comment. He hasn't made any announcement and certainly won't make one here. It's strictly a speculative story."

THE DEMOCRATIC source, an upstate county chairman who declined to be named, said Carey's name appeared high on a long list of "possibles" advanced for the commissioner's post after Harriman's election, Nov. 2.

On the same day Harriman won at the polls, Carey lost a bid to wrest the 36th Congressional District seat from Republican Rep. John Taber of Auburn.

Carey, a Democrat, served as assistant to U. S. Agriculture Secretary Brannan in former President Trumans cabinet.

Farm organization sources, who asked not to be quoted by name, said they understood that Carey had the support of one of the large cooperatives and one large milk distributor.

OTHERS WHO farm leaders consider still in contention for the job are former Assemblyman Sharon Mauhs of Cobleskill and James G. Lyons of Monticello. However, the Democratic chairman declared:

"Lyons definitely is out. For one reason, Monticello is too close to New York city—Harriman needs a real upstater."

Mauhs is counsel for the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn. A spokesman for one of the four largest dairy cooperatives said he understood Harriman did not want as commissioner a man "too closely associated with any of the big farm groups."

Have Fifth Child

Hollywood, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Dennis Days have another child—their fifth. Birth of 7-pound 10-ounce Eileen Maria McNulty Thursday night at St. Vincent's Hospital was disclosed yesterday. Her singer father, whose real name is Eugene Dennis McNulty, and his wife Peggy have another daughter and three sons.

Democrats . . .

the 1948 election.

THE NORTH-SOUTH harmony achieved on this point soon was shattered, however by the controversy over whether the committee should proceed as scheduled to elect a chairman by roll call vote in an afternoon session.

Rayburn's call for a postponement enlisted immediate support from committee veterans such as Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh the Pennsylvania national committeeman, and Col. Jacob M. Arvey, Illinois member.

But Mitchell leaped to the defense of the committee's right to fight out the chairmanship issue in public on roll call votes in which Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, the parliamentarian, held that the winner must get 53 of the 105 ballots expected to be cast.

The lineup of Stevenson and Mitchell on one side, with Rayburn, Lawrence and Arvey on the other, represented a deep seated division between the Stevenson-come-latelies" on the committee and the veterans who have been accustomed to dictating the choice of a chairman.

RAYBURN HUDDLED in a midnight hotel room session with Arvey, Lawrence, Carmine G. DeSapio, New York national committeeman, Tracy R. McCracken, Wyoming committeeman, Calvin Rawlings, Utah committeeman, and Howard McGrath, former attorney general, without any evident agreement among them.

McGrath, who is supporting DiSalle, was reported to have counseled an immediate vote, a move DiSalle said he would welcome. Rawlings called a meeting of members from 11 western states this morning to sound out on candidates and a postponement.

Individual committee members who would comment made it plain that they want to pick the chairman and not have the choice dictated to them.

Liberty Man Is

morning rendezvous because she resisted his advances.

Dist. Otty. Benjamin Newberg said Terry told him he decided "to silence her forever."

Authorities said Mrs. Jersey had not been raped.

Police gave this account:

Terry and Mrs. Jersey first met late Tuesday night in a Liberty tavern, Hunter's Inn.

THE COUPLE AGREED to meet later, at 4 a. m., and drove separately to the appointed spot, on Route 52.

There, Newberg said, Terry got into Mrs. Jersey's car and she resisted his advances.

Terry is accused of throwing the woman out of her car, putting her in his own, and driving off onto a side road.

Newberg said Terry admitted throwing the woman into a ditch and then beating her on the head with a lug wrench.

TERRY WAS HELD for grand jury action after arraignment before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Fisk.

Mrs. Jersey's body was discovered by Leslie Houghtaling, who lives in the neighborhood and noticed Mrs. Jersey's car parked on the road for almost two days. Searching the area, Houghtaling found the body, covered with an overcoat, on Thursday evening.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 4 (AP)—Republican Clifford P. Case has a lead of 3,226 votes in the disputed N. J. Senate race today with a recount complete in one sixth of five challenged paper-ballot counties. Democratic Rep. Charles R. Howell has been gaining a few votes each day to lop a total of 104 votes off Case's official 3,370 margin, but Case gained four votes yesterday.

Ithaca Meeting

Farm Organizations, formed in 1919. The chairman of the board is Henry Sherwood of Pine Plains, mentioned as a possibility—among several others—for the post of Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets.

Each year, representatives of the eight groups comprising the board work out recommedations for legislation that all think would help the farmer. Then they take their program to the governor.

And that's where the chance for an early showdown comes in.

The board plans to meet Thursday to continue work on its legislative program, which it hopes to lay before Harriman in Albany early in January.

TRADITIONALLY, these meetings have been pleasant affairs. When the first one with Harriman is over, both sides may come away satisfied that they will be able to get along.

Or they may immediately draw up battle lines to thrash out the isues. In any event the farm organizations should know how they will fare under Harriman.

Members of the conference board are the Farm Bureaus, Home Burea, the Grange League Federation, the Dairymen's League, the State Grange, the Horticultural Society, the Poultry Council, and the State Vegetable Gromers Assn.

Pope Is Better

was "most cordial" during the 15-minute meeting, one of several the Pontiff has arranged despite his illness. He reportedly talked yesterday with Msgr. Domenico Tardini, a close associate in the Vatican Secretariate of State, and Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini, recently appointed Archbishop of Milan, who had been mentioned as a possible successor to the Papal Throne.

Before the specialists issued their bulletin, an official Vatican spokesman said the Pontiff was suffering intermittent fevers and that his temperature was "continuously fluctuating."

WORD THAT CATHOLICS around the world prayed for his recovery reportedly greatly comforted the Pope yesterday.

Romans and tourists from many countries gathered in vast St. Peter's Square seeking the latest word on his condition. Many knelt on the cold cobblestones to pray. Police diverted wheeled traffic from the square to keep it quiet.

Embassies and legations of the more than 40 nations accredited to the Vatican maintained close contact for the latest report. Their personnel will attend a special Mass at Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major tomorrow to pray for the Pope's recovery.

in this case as part of an effort to find out if McCarthy was speculating with money sent him for use in fighting communism.

The special committee, consisting of Sens. Ferguson (R.-Mich.) and George (D.-Ga.), declared "in strong language . . . the use of mail covers by a Senate committee or its staff."

It was developed by the Ferguson-George Committee that the check—maintained from Oct. 24 to Nov. 16, 1952—was applied only on mail going to his home in northwest Washington, not to his Senate office. The mail of several McCarthy aides also was checked and the special committee report said it was clear none of those involved consented to the cover.

EVER ADD UP WHAT YOU COULD LOSE?
You have perhaps often added up what you are worth.
Ever add up what you could LOSE? It might perhaps be several times what you are worth.
Example: you may injure somebody and the law may take all you're worth and attach your future income for years to come.
Example: your house may burn and it may cost you twice its original price to replace it.
Sometime add up all the losses you MIGHT have and you'll see that you are under-insured at many points — against theft, fires, lawsuits, embezzlement, interruption of business, etc.
Gloomy? Well, the purpose of the insurance policies we write is to end this kind of gloomy thinking.
